Mrs. Leeds Tells Court She Is Not Angry at Her Rival or Husband

Justice was tempered with mercy in Judge Dowd's Municipal Court today when the Rev. Fred Leeds, retired Episcopal minister, and Miss Florence Reid of New Haven were arraigned [illegible] improper [illegible] following a raid in September at the Hotel Lenox, where the couple had been registered. The raid was led by Mrs. Leeds. Judge Dowd found them both guilty as charged.

Mrs. Leeds took the stand.

WIFE TESTIFIES.

"Your honor, we've been married for twenty years," she said. "He has been until this occasion a good and faithful husband. I harbor no feeling of anger toward him, nor of resentment toward this poor girl. I believe they have both been punished enough.

"My husband has agreed, if you are lenient and let him off, to go to a sanitarium in New York and regain his lost health."

Judge Dowd thereupon addressed the minister, who stood with bowed head, trembling:

"You are a learned man," he said. "It is not necessary for me to show you what a heinous offence

EX-EVANGELIST SHOOTS JAILER

Los Angeles, Oct. 17.—Herbert Wilson, former evangelist, convicted of the murder of Herbert Cox during an attempted jail break several months ago, escaped from the county jail here today. Two other prisoners also escaped.

Wilson, armed with a revolver, held up and shot the gateman at the jail, then shot one of the turnkeys, and taking the keys, opened the doors to his liberty early today.

U. S. Dirigible Destroyed When Gas Bag Rips at Texas Flying Field

San Antonio, Tex., Oct. 17.—The army dirigible C-2, carrying a score of persons, exploded and was destroyed by fire today at Brooks Field, near here. All on board and nearby escaped without fatality.

The C-2, preparing to resume the return journey of a transcontinental flight, was being towed out of a hangar when the wind caught her and threw her against a big door, which ripped the gas bag. An instant later she was in flames.

The injured included:

MAJOR H. A. STRAUSS, commander, bruises, not serious.

MAJOR JOHN THOMPSON, injuries undetermined.

CAPTAIN JEFFREY MONTAGUE.

CAPTAIN NELSON WALKER, bruised on face.

BEN BAINES, San Antonio, reporter, arm broken.

LIEUTENANT O. A. ANDERSON, body bruises.

SERGEANT A. D. ALBRECHT, broken leg and bruises.

SEVERAL INJURED.

With a score of persons on board, the C-2 was unleashed and raised slightly above the floor of the hangar. Crowds stood around the door and outside and at the first sign of danger they scattered in all directions.

INJURED, PHONES STORY.

Ben Baines, a San Antonio reporter, who was a passenger, though badly injured, telephoned the first account of the accident to reach this city, and was then taken to a hospital.

"We were being towed out," he said, "and as the nose of the ship came outside of the hangar I noticed it sway a little with the wind, and as it proceeded it careened to one side. When the ship was a little more than half way out the wind

HUGE SILK ROBBERIES REVEALED

Police Organize "Loft Squad" and Dealers Combine to Overcome Burglaries

Argument today by Assistant District Attorney Robert Robinson for an individual bail of $50,000 for suspects arrested in connection with Sunday's $40,000 loft burglary at No. 888 Washington street revealed the following:

Theft of more than $250,000 worth of silks and other cloth in two score or more daring burglaries.

Existence of a vigilantes association among silk dealers for protection against thieves.

That the recent wholesale shift of superior officers and patrolmen was due, to a great extent, to the astounding number of downtown robberies.

Urging Judge Creed to keep bail at the original figure, Attorney Robinson told how the vigilantes had appealed to him, to Superintendent Crowley and Chief Inspector John R. McGarr at a special meeting.

The insistence of the assistant district attorney aroused the ire of Attorney John D. McDonald. A lengthy verbal tilt ensued.

Judge Creed fixed bail at $35,000 each for Mathew Berman, Robert Cravatts and Murray Price, and for Jacob Cohen bail was made $2,000.

Attorney McDonald insisted that there should be immediate trial in view of the unusually high bail. This was set for Friday.

Police officials refused to comment on the case. They expressed confidence in their ability to connect the four prisoners with the robbery Sunday. It was hinted that startling developments would be forthcoming when the trial starts.

The loft squad plan was suggested to Supt. Crowley by Capt. Herbert Goodwin, who was shifted from headquarters to command of Division 4, after an investigation.

GOODWIN WARNS AUTO LAMP DEALERS

Frank A. Goodwin, State Registrar of motor vehicles, issued a warning today to retail dealers in motor vehicle lamps, against falling victim to misrepresentations on the part of salesmen of rear lamps, who claim that their particular lamp is to be approved by the motor vehicle registry under the new rear lamp law.

"The first list of approved lamps will be issued on November 15, and not before," Goodwin said.

WOMAN IN COURT; 2 CLAIM HER AS WIFE

Two men, each claiming to be her husband, confronted Mrs. Mildred Lindell Pride of No. 69 Court street, Medford, when she appeared today in Municipal Court. Marshal J. Lindell of Providence evidenced a disposition to punish his wife for taking a second husband without consulting him. Jesse D. Pride of the U. S. S. Florida was willing to let the court decide the issue. Judge Dowd continued the case for a week.

SAY TURKEYS SHOULD BE CHEAPER THIS YEAR

Chicago Girl Becomes Bride of Paul Taylor White, Boston Composer

Paul Taylor White, well-known composer of Boston, who graduated from the New England Conservatory of Music with high honors, can have no possible doubt that his wife loves him. Nor can she doubt his affection.

By marrying Paul, Mrs. White, who was Josephine Kryl of Chicago, loses $100,000.

Josephine is the daughter of Bohumir Kryl, noted musician of Chicago, and sister of Marie Kryl.

Kryl had great ambitions for his daughters. Six years ago Josephine was a promising student of the violin and Marie an already accomplished violinist.

Their futures look promising. Only one thing might interfere with them. The father realized this and promised each of his daughters $100,000 if they would remain single until each were thirty years old.

He felt that by that time their

SINGER HIS 'WONDER HEART'

Slain Rector Longed to Take Mrs. Mills in His Arms; Planned Trysts

(Copyright, 1922, by the N. Y. American.)
(Reproduction in whole or in part positively prohibited.)

New York, Oct. 17.—The Boston American today reveals exclusively a most compelling cycle of love letters written by the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall to Mrs. Eleanor R. Mills. Rev. Dr. Hall and Mrs. Mills were slain and their bodies found together in New Brunswick, N. J., on September 16.

The first of the series of letters as presented in today's Boston American shows beyond doubt that the pair were accustomed to meeting clandestinely to discuss affairs of the heart. They had a trysting place near the lonely meadow on Phillips farm, where their bodies were found.

ENCLOSED SWEET PEA.

The following is the first of the "wonder-heart letters," in each of which the clergyman would enclose a sweet pea blossom:—

with you while holding you in my arms.

"I am not wild or fierce today, but peaceful, calm, strong, exalted. Such an assurance—I feel like Tennyson's Strong Son of God—I mortal love.—Cheerio, dear heart.

"I want to hold you close—commune with you—hold you tight with my left arm and stroke your dear, firm face with my right—and look deep into those wonder eyes—hazel eyes.

AWED BY HER EYES.

"Dearest, you are like a crystal to me. I will call them crystal eyes—I seem to see and feel all the awe and wonder of the universe in them—and I am full of awe and wonder today.

Rev. Edward W. Hall.

"So I want you this afternoon. I want you and music and I will bring the victrola. I have been thinking a great deal about prayer. Have you been playing this morning? For me? I feel sure you must have been, even if you were not conscious of it, love and prayer, what wonderful powers. Isn't psychic influence strange and wonderful?

"Let us meet at our road at 2:15—I will get there first so you will not have to wait if it rains—if you suggest any other plan—call up 74 between 1:30 and 2:00—and I will answer the phone.

"Beloved heart—you are all the wonder of life for me today—life—love—mystery, will power—affection—all are bound up in you, the true love—the mother of all life and love for me! I feel your firm, strong fingers gripping mine as we crush one another in a firm, strong embrace—you darling."

The above was signed "D. T. L.," which, as is revealed by other letters of the many sent to Mrs. Mills, stands for the German "Deine Treue Liebe" (Your true love).

The following was written apparently after the couple had engaged in the clandestine meeting suggested in the letter above:

DEAR WONDER HEART.

"Oh, you dear, dear wonder heart! What a cherio heart you have been today! Darling, what a gay gypsy you were this afternoon!

Mrs. Eleanor R. Mills.

"Simply could not wait until tonight to see you and to find you so full of life and spirits! Oh, how I wanted to stay and play with you—but I could not there — and then, there was our ride—but we will play—some day next week.

"Darling, it is so good to see you so well and your old dear self again—wasn't it a lovely ride! I hated to leave you out downtown—but it seemed wisest—I would look queer to go way up to Carman street first—and it was just time people would be on the streets—so it was best, even if hard to do as we did. Wasn't it, dear?

"Darling, the choir is singing hymns and I love to hear and know your dear voice is singing out those lovely words and your heart, too—there is something divine in the way you sing hymns—you love them so—you could easily be a song evangelist.

"People love to hear you sing hymns—there is a pathos and tenderness in your voice that people feel.

"Darling, I must go in now and look at my dear heart while she sings. Good night, beloved, all my heart's love for you. There is a deep, deep joy of peace in our hearts tonight."

WROTE AS CHOIR SANG.

Certain of the clergyman's communications—as is true of the above—were scribbled apparently while the choir sang its serving hymns on Sunday evenings and the minister was in his church study, getting ready to preach. Another reads:

"Dear, dear darling heart of mine! I had hoped to have a long note for you tonight—but it has seemed as though I just could not write. My thoughts and feelings have been too full to put into words or on paper—just one of my moods today dear—one of my lonely, longing moods—you always, dearest, my treasure, my anchor, my rock. Oh, how I did want to fly off with you this afternoon!

PINED FOR "DREAMLAND."

"I wanted to get away to dreamland—heavenland—everything seemed so sordid—earthly—commonplace—can I meet you tomorrow—our road at 2 p. m.—we can have the afternoon together—or, if it rains, shall we go to a show? I want to be with you, rather in the country.

"I just want to hold you—there is a peace then that nothing else brings—I can't talk to you any more in the presence of Mrs. Hall or Jim—so don't be surprised if I stay away when you are talking to them.

"Dear Heart—How good it was of you to accompany me to the dentist. Things would have been different if you were not along. There was no pain during the extraction and none following."

This note evidently had been written by Mrs. Mills last Summer shortly after Dr. Hall had accompanied her to the office of a New York dentist.

SUES FOR $100,000 IN LEATHER DEAL

Mordka Senator's suit to recover $100,000 and damages from the Lynn Storage Warehouse Company of Lynn was heard today before Federal Judge James M. Morton, Jr., and a jury in Federal Court. The plaintiff, a Russian, was represented by Attorney Lee Freedman. Senator is said to be one of the largest leather dealers in Russia.

According to Attorney Freedman Senator purchased 5,300 oak sides that had been stored in the warehouse from persons who owned them. The leather was paid for by Senator in Russia and the Guaranty Trust Company of New York delivered to the plaintiff a receipt of the Lynn Storage Warehouse Company. According to Attorney Freedman when Senator tried to get the leather it had been given to other parties.

GRILL WIDOW AGAIN IN HALL DEATH CASE

New Brunswick, N. J., Oct. 17 (By the Associated Press).—Mrs. Francis Stevens Hall and her eccentric brother, Willie Stevens, were brought to the court house by detective Fred David today for further examination by authorities investigating the murder of the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Reinhardt Mills.

Mrs. Hall and her brother were accompanied by Miss Sally Peters, a close friend of the rector's widow, and another woman. They rode in a closed car.

AUTHORITIES IN RACE.

Shortly before their arrival, County Prosecutors Beekman of Somerset and Stricker of Middlesex—who have predicted at least two arrests before night—began questioning Henry Stevens, another brother of Mrs. Hall, who had driven over from his home in Lavalette in response to a summons.

Newspaper men working on the Hall-Mills case were barred from the courthouse during the examinations.

After they had been in the courthouse for about three hours, Mrs. Hall, Miss Peters and the woman who had accompanied them emerged and returned to the Hall home. Henry and Willie Stevens remained for further questioning.

MISS MILLS QUESTIONED.

Charlotte Mills, daughter of the slain choir singer, was taken from her class in high school and accompanied to the courthouse by one of the State troopers working on the case.

Today's investigation developed into a race, with officials of Middlesex and Somerset counties on the one side and State troopers on the other, vieing to make good first on their predictions of two arrests before night.

SAMSON OF POLICE SETTLES WITH WIFE

Samuel S. J. Sweetland, once the Samson of the Boston police, today settled his financial differences with his first wife. Standing before Judge Dubuque in Superior Criminal Court he agreed to pay her $100 now, $500 at the expiration of six months and $5 weekly for six months. This done the court placed him on probation. He had been found guilty of non-support, abandonment and desertion of his first wife.

'KIDNAPED' BOY IS DECLARED GYPSY'S SON

Evidence which will definitely prove that the boy known as Russel Everett Smith is not the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Smith son of Dighton will be presented at the Taunton Court next Monday when Eugene Choquette is arraigned on a charge of kidnaping the lad.

This evidence will be presented by four women who will establish the fact that the lad is in reality the child of Gertrude Beede who has since become Choquette's wife.

Choquette's story that the lad went with him when he married the mother, Miss Beede, in December, 1920, will be substantiated.

The women who will give this testimony are women to whom the State Division of Child Guardianship "farmed" the lad during the period between his birth, September 3, 1916, and his mother's marriage in 1920. They will positively identify the lad as the one they had custody of during that time.

Each of the two women who claims to be the lad's mother—Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Choquette—offers to submit to a blood test to prove her claim to maternity of the boy.

"I will agree to a blood test, to anything that science may have discovered, to any discomfort or expense to win my baby back," said Mrs. Smith. "I have suffered the torments of the damned since he was stolen. I can suffer more and I will."

"The boy is mine," said Mrs. Choquette. "He was born without a name, that's true. I was fifteen when my darling was born. I have married a good man. He didn't steal the boy. I brought him to my husband, and he accepted the little nameless darling and has cared for him since our marriage."

Choquette Says He Served in Navy

Taunton, Oct. 17.—Unable to furnish $3,000 bail demanded by the District Court, Eugene Choquette is forced to remain in jail until next Monday.

"My record is clear," said Choquette. "Everything I say can be checked up. I gave the boy a name by marrying his mother and took the kid with us.

"I was born in Woonsocket, R. I. My family went to Central Falls, R. I. Everyone knows me. I am now going on forty-three years old and I have always worked hard.

"When I left Woonsocket, I went West where I stayed five or six years. I lived in Miles City, Montanna, and did about everything honest to earn money. I punched cattle, did broncho busting, worked as harvest hand and at my trade of machinist.

"Then I came back East and about 1906 took on with the navy, serving three hitches in all.

"I was discharged the last time a few months after the armistice was signed, and went to Franklin, Mass.

"Then Gerty and I got married a few days before Christmas of 1919. Gerty's father and mother stood up with us.

"We didn't have an easy time, and when we got the chance to turn the kid over to L. C. Lancaster in La Grange, Maine, Gerty was willing to do it. But she will tell you the kid is her's and that he was not stolen from anyone. All the records of his birth and our marriage and so on can be found.

"The kid knew me and admitted it when we met in the State police office today. He admitted that I bought him a sailor suit with buttons, and said I licked him. I did lick him when he caught the lead rope around the horse's foreleg at La Grange and burned the leg. That was when Lancaster bawled me out and we made the deal for the Lancasters to adopt him. The boy also knew the name of the horse, for when I asked him he said it was Daisy."

Agitation for Helium Gas Renewed

Washington, Oct. 17.—Loss by fire of the army dirigible C-2 at San Antonio today, following on the destruction at Hampton Roads several months ago of the giant airship Roma, is expected by air service officials here to renew the agitation for development of non-combustible helium gas for use in government lighter-than-air [illegible]

The bag burned and the car dropped to the ground, throwing the passengers to the concrete floor. Many leaped to safety just in time.

Police ambulances and emergency cars were rushed to the scene immediately after the accident.

20 COMMUNISTS BEFORE COURT

By the Associated Press.

St. Joseph, Mich., Oct. 17.—Arraignment of twenty alleged Communists charged with plotting to overthrow the government of the United States by force was set for today, the first test of Michigan's anti-syndicalism law, which was passed as a wartime measure.

Sixteen of the men were arrested August 22, when officers swooped down on a wooded glen near Bridgman and interrupted what the government charges was the national convention of the Communist Party of America, representatives in this country of the Third Internationale of Moscow.

Between seventy and eighty radicals had been at the meeting. Three men, including W. Z. Foster of steel strike fame, later were arrested at Chicago and extradited.

Foster, Charles E. Ruthenberg of Cleveland, secretary of the Workers' Party, the legal branch of the underground Communist organization; William F. Dunn, Workers' Party candidate for Governor of New York, and the six others who are at liberty under bonds have arrived.

MILLION TONS OF COAL HERE FROM BRITAIN

More than one million tons of British coal has arrived in Boston since last June, according to statistics compiled at the Chamber of Commerce today. This is the largest international movement of coal that has ever taken place, according to officials of the Chamber. From June to September the receipts of British coal at this port was 579,889 tons. Since October 1 the receipts have been considerable in excess of 150,836 tons. This puts New England out of danger of a coal famine, as far as the industries are concerned.

FILM STAR WED IN JUNE SEEKS DIVORCE

Los Angeles, Oct. 17.—All Hollywood was talking today of the report that Blanche Sweet, motion picture star, had instructed her attorney to begin proceedings for annulment of her marriage to Marshall Neilan, equally well-known film director and producer. While no official confirmation was obtainable, those who repeated it seemed thoroughly convinced of its truth.

For some time it has been the gossip in the studios, clubs and cafes of Hollywood screen celebrities that all was not well in the Neilan menage. This revelation has come with the force of a sudden shock, especially so, since Marshall and Blanche were married only on June 8 last in Chicago.

The ceremony was the culmination of years of friendship, which began when Blanche Sweet was one of the stars of the biograph studio. Later on, Neilan directed his wife-to-be in several productions, and then became an independent producer.

For years she was in retirement, following a serious illness. Her last appearance before her marriage was in the "Unpardonable Sin," which Neilan directed. During the last Spring he went abroad and as soon as he reached New York on his return trip Neilan wired for Miss Sweet to come to New York at once to be married.

[illegible] Marshall was impatient as well as impetuous. Although arrangements for the ceremony had been made in the Eastern metropolis, even down to the engagement of the minister and the purchase of flowers, he boarded a train and met Blanche in Chicago. There they were married by a judge in the presence of two friends.

SAYS CAR LINES FAKE DIVIDENDS FOR BANKS

Some of the street railways in this State are paying dividends they never earned merely for the purpose of allowing the savings banks to invest in their bonds declared by George E. Brock, president of the Savings Bank Association of Massachusetts, today at a hearing before the Recess Commission on Banks. Bentley W. SAILOR RESCUED BY HARBOR POLICEMAN

Henry Frank Brown, sailor, attempted to climb over the side of the steamship Melrose. He fell, his head struck against the boat and was drowning when Sergeant Lawrence H. Dunn of the police boat Watchman pulled him out. The police boat had carried Brown in midstream from Rowe's Wharf so he could reach his vessel before sailing time. He is at Haymarket Relief Hospital. His home is No. 527 Bond street, Baltimore.

BOSTON ORPHANS IN ORPHEUM FILMS

Moving pictures of Boston's orphans being carried from their institutions in automobiles furnished by the Nash Company to Loew's Orpheum Theatre to see the film "Forget-Me-Not," and to the Elks' Club for dinner are being shown at the Orpheum this week. The arrangements for the entertainment of the children were made by the Boston American.

ROYALISTS AROUSED BY REPUBLIC PLAN

Athens, Oct. 17. (By the Associated Press).—The campaign to make Greece a republic, launched after the return to Paris of the new foreign minister, Nicholas Politis, prominent Venizelist, has aroused the Royalist newspapers.

Nea Himera declares the Greek people will overwhelmingly oppose the idea at the coming elections, and at any rate would distrust a republic presided over by M. Venizelos.

Yesterday was cheerful for those that learn from long lists of stock sales what the day has done to them. Thickly scattered were little plus signs, every one with a meaning of its own.

United States Steel jumped to 111½ at one time, settling down to 110⅝. And somebody bought 98,000 shares of it.

Other stocks behaved nicely for their owners. Stock business is a satisfactory, clean business for those that are not "clean," as Wall Street puts it.

Sending power through the air seems near, according to Dr. Alexanderson, a serious scientist. If it be true that "electronubes" can transmit the power of Niagara to New York and Chi agn without wires, the news for progress is the most important in many years.

It would mean utilizing the gigantic water power in Brazil, now useless, running ships at sea by the great waterfalls of Africa. Imagine flying machines all over the earth's surface taking power through the air as they fly, instead of carrying fuel.

A flying ship, properly built, might go around the earth ten times without coming down. That is REAL news.

Chicago has a new excitement. hands overpowering unfortunate men, operating upon them surgi ally, removing valuable glands r sale to the idle, worn-out rich. t's an interesting yarn, but not rue. The idle, worn-out rich raw the line somewhere, and at story is on the other side of e line.

In ancient days such attacks d "operations" were common, sed on revenge. They still ppen occasionally. And such tilations, based on religious vor and the desire to live free sin, have occurred often, es ially among early Christians.

England expects a labor gov rnment soon.

Here, Socialists and labor men, d by Morris Hillquit, an educated and forceful leader, are arting an American Labor arty.

If wisely managed it will be elcome. Every country needs a strong, radical party as a check on reactionary excess.

Mr. Hillquit wants an organization "100 per cent. for men and women who toil." Very fine, but as Voltaire said, "Let us define our terms." What IS a toiler, Mr. Hillquit? John D. Rockefeller is one and valuable. He has made competition ridiculous, proving it unnecessary.

That had to come to make radicalism useful. He has done more for the health of human beings than any 1,000 other men, showing the people how to take millions from wealth in the ground and use it for people above the ground.

Be sure to include among your "toilers" the most important builders and give them their price. An African chief kills a dangerous man-killing lion. He wants fifty black wives, and has them.

If Mr. Rockefeller or anybody else solves a great problem for you, let him have fifty or five hundred million golden dollars if he wants them.

Thomas A. Edison, looking at machines made in early days, could not remember why he made them. "But I know one thing," said he, "I sweat blood over every one of them."

There's a recipe for success, SWEATING BLOOD. Dante put the same thought otherwise more than six hundred years ago, "Work as nature works, in fire."

If you don't sweat and burn as you work, nothing comes of your

SECRET BRIDE OF AUTHOR

Mrs. Ogden Mills, Recent Paris Divorcee, Becomes Lady Dukes

New York, Oct. 17.—Mrs. Ogden L. Mills, born Margaret Rutherford, and a stepdaughter of the late William K. Vanderbilt, recently became the bride of Sir Paul Dukes, a noted English author and lecturer on occult subjects, with whom she is now spending a honeymoon abroad.

It is reported the ceremony took place in Connecticut, probably in Greenwich, before a justice of the peace.

Lady Dukes was married to Congressman Ogden L. Mills in France on September 21, 1911, their wedding being one of the social events of the year. In May, 1920, she obtained a divorce in Paris. Congressman Mills, formerly was a New York Senator and served as a captain in the United States army in France.

The former Mrs. Mills is one of the two daughters of the late Lewis Morris Rutherford, Jr. The other sister, Barbara, is Mrs. Cyril Hatch, her husband being a well-known society man and polo player. The sisters, on the death of their stepfather, William K. Vanderbilt, received large shares of his estate.

Sir Paul Dukes, a member of a noted English family, spent several years in Russia, and in the last eighteen months of this period he served the British government as a spy.

1 HORSE, 3 RIDERS, OUT OF ARMY TEST

Brandon, Vt., Oct. 17.—Twenty horses and riders left here in a driving rain early today for Burlington on the second 60-mile leg of the 300-mile endurance test for army mounts. The Anglo Arab mare named Oh La, ridden by Lory Prentiss, was bothered by soreness as she left the stables and was withdrawn. J. Howard Lemain of Boston, who rode his Kentucky mare Sunray on yesterday's leg, suffered from an attack of indigestion and today James Hennessey had the mount. The other rider to withdraw was J. M. Ritenour, who was replaced on the Morgan mare Scotia by Austin Gibson. Mr. Ritenour's horse fell yesterday and injured the rider's knee.

REFUSED KISS; GIRL HAS 2 BLACK EYES

Sylvester Leonard, twenty-five, of Norfolk street, Roxbury, gazed at Eleanor Harmon and felt a desire to kiss.

He tried.

She objected.

Eleanor said, in Roxbury court today, that he blacked both eyes.

The case was continued until Friday.

FORMER POLICEMAN SENT TO STATE FARM

George E. O'Brien, a former police officer attached to Division No. 13, Jamaica Plain, was found guilty of drunkenness by a jury in the Superior Criminal Court before Judge Du Buque today and sentenced to the State Farm at Bridgewater for an indefinite term. O'Brien conducted his own defense and contended that he was a victim of epilepsy.

PRISONERS TO HANDLE CITY COKE

40 Deer Island Inmates Volunteer to Move Fuel on East Boston Waterfront

Armed prisoners from the House of Correction at Deer Island will invade the city tomorrow morning early.

They will be armed with pitchforks and they will pitch coke into bags to help keep the cost down to the city's needy families.

This unusual scene of prisoner activity will be staged at the City Fuel Company's wharf on the East Boston water front, where Mayor Curley has 2,090 tons of coke waiting to be bagged and sold at cost.

Forty prisoners, serving short-terms for intoxication and non-support, will compose the pitch-fork and coke gang. They will be brought up on the city steamboat from Deer Island in the morning and taken back at night as long as their services are needed on the bagging job.

The gang will be in command of Master James M. Malloy of Deer Island and will be under direct supervision of Dennis Driscoll, deputy institutions commissioner.

Every coke-bagger will be served a good luncheon with hot coffee at mid-day and, on returning to the Island, will have a hot dinner.

The prisoners volunteered for this. Deputy Commissioner Driscoll went down to the Island, explained the need of keeping down the cost of supplying this fuel to needy families and asked for volunteers for the pitch-fork party. He had no trouble in raising a gang.

As soon as the coke is bagged it will be transported on city wagons to various distribution stations to be announced later.

WILSON GANG'S LEADER IS CONVICTED

John J. Sullivan, known to the police as "Jackie" Sullivan, real brains of the "Tug" Wilson gang, was found guilty of larceny of an automobile by a jury in the Middlesex Superior Criminal Court, East Cambridge, today.

His brother-in-law, Alexander D. Gray, was found guilty of receiving stolen goods.

The charge on which Sullivan was tried was the first of several to be lodged against him as the result of his exploits. The automobile stolen was the property of Mrs. Florence A. Bartow of Quincy and disappeared November 29, 1921. It was later found in a barn in Watertown.

MAYOR CURLEY WANTS CITY COAL ANALYZED

Mayor Curley today ordered Frank P. Rock, city purchasing agent, to have analysis made of samples from 25,000 tons of semi-anthracite coal which has been offered the city at $10.60 a ton. If sufficient thermal units are shown the Mayor will probably close contract for some, maybe all, of the lot. It is said to be superior to bituminous now being worked off on the public.

ARGUE DEMURRERS OF H. V. GREENE CO.

Arguments on demurrers filed by Henry V. Greene, H. V. Greene Company and its subsidiaries against the bill in equity sought by Theresa J. Spear and others for recovery of $14,000,000 were heard by Judge De Courcy in Supreme Court today. The case was taken under advisement.

Where Garland and 2 Girls Seek Utopia

DENY SOLVING THEIR "PROBLEMS" UNDER SAME ROOF

Below is "Chicken Coop, in which Doris Benson and Alice Edgerton are living on the farm of Charles Garland, radical visionary, while his wife is on her way to Europe, having parted from him. Above, 150 feet away by the dotted line, is the old shack in which Garland lives. On the top is a photo of the plank on which is inscribed the new motto of the little colony, "Be Yourself," which is suspended between two poles in front of the "Chicken Coop," so-called because of the original purpose of the shack. Below, at left is Garland as he appears today on his farm. Above, in inset, is a photo of Doris Benson. (Copyright by Underwood & Underwood.

By HAROLD R. HALL

Charles Garland, young philosopher and gentleman farmer, has a new creed. It is "BE YOURSELF."

Carved deep into a smoothly-planed plank are the magic words which are guiding this advocate of free love and spurner of millions on to the solution of his "great experiment."

The plank, bearing the motto, has been hung between two poles on Garland's farm right in front of the "Chicken-Coop."

There it sways in the gentle Cape Cod breezes far from the throbbing pulse of anything pertaining to commercialism or capitalistic control at East Carver.

The "Chicken-Coop" before which the motto is hung is not the ordinary chicken coop that houses hens of the feathered variety. This coop houses two fair maidens — namely Miss Doris Benson and Miss Alice Edgerton.

The two girls admit that they, too, are trying to solve a problem, but what the problem is they are keeping to themselves. Garland will not discuss the girls' problem or their presence in his little Utopia no more than he will tell what his "great experiment" is.

BANS MONEY MAKING.

"I will not talk of my experiment with anyone who has anything to do with a commercial proposition," said Garland. "Newspapermen are among those people. I do not blame them. They want a story because the newspapers want the money that the story might help bring them. I do not want to be a party to any such proposition. I will not."

DENIES LIVING WITH GIRLS.

Garland, however, put aside his ill-feeling toward newspapers and their readers when he was told that the world had gained the impression that Miss Benson and Miss Edgerton were living under the same roof with him.

"That is not so," said Charles with more feeling than he had shown during the entire conversation. "The girls are living in the new cabin and I am living in my old one. We are not under the same roof. If I have been quoted as saying that we are together it is wrong. I never said so. If anyone says we are under the same roof and attributes their statement to their own personal observation they are wrong. Aren't we having beautiful fall weather?"

MISS BENSON TALKS.

Pressed for some information regarding the "Be Yourself" motto hanging so conspicuously in front of the "Chicken-Coop," Garland would not say a word. The sign had to speak for itself.

The girls, too, apparently have taken a leaf out of the Garland notebook, for they will not attempt to explain their presence at the now-famous "love" farm.

"We are here, and it is nobody's business why we are here or what we are trying to work out," said Miss Benson. "I tried to tell the readers of the papers just what my aims are and what I hope to accomplish some time ago. The newspapers failed me and did not seem to get the idea as I gave it. The newspapers seem to have the wrong perspective. They do not seem able to understand things of a nature other than dollars and cents. Ideals and ambitions of persons such as I are not given the proper interpretation. Therefore I shall never try to give my views again.

SCORNS WORLD OPINION.

"I do not care what is printed about me. I do not care what is said. Nothing that is said or printed can harm me. What the world thinks or says does not interest me. I am through talking. No one can understand me, anyway, so what is the use?"

"What about your being a 'mental you," she advised the reporter. "It works for Garland most of the time mate' of Mr. Garland?" asked the reporter.

"There is nothing to that 'mental mate' stuff," was the reply. "Of course we agree in some of our beliefs regarding the working out of problems, but as for being 'mental mates', that must have been produced from some imagination more fertile than mine."

Miss Benson here turned her back on the reporter and resumed her task of canning tomatoes raised by Garland on his farm. She had about a bushel of tomatoes and stated that she was very busy.

MISS EDGERTON, MYSTERY.

Miss Edgerton is the real "mystery girl" of the love farm. Where she came from is a deep, deep secret. Garland will not tell and neither will she. Captain Walter Lewen, who on the farm, says that Miss Edgerton came to April Farm because of ill health. She will not admit it. From her conversation, brief though it was, one gathers that she is a regular radical. At least, she does not believe in working for anyone but one's self.

NO BOSS FOR HER.

"You ought to get away from a position where you have a boss over is not necessary."

"But what of one's family?" said the writer.

"Oh, that will all work itself out," was the reply. "Get out from under the heel of a boss. Work for yourself. Work out your own salvation and all will come out as it should in the end," said the girl.

"But how?" queried the reporter.

"Be yourself," replied Miss Edgerton. And there was the explanation of the motto that hung in front of the "Chicken-Coop." It was in plain sight as she spoke.

However, this young girl, for such she is, could not or would not explain just how the reporter, or anyone else, could give up his job and be a success.

CHINESE BANDITS SEIZE AMERICAN

Peking, Oct. 17 (By International News Service). — Chinese bandits have taken Anton Lunder, an American missionary, prisoner and are holding him for ransom, according to reports to the American legation here today.

Formal protest has been made to the Chinese government. Lunder was a member of the staff of the Augustana mission in Honan Province. Three women and two children at the mission are reported safe.

YOUNG MORSE MUST FACE FRAUD CHARGES

Bridgeport, Ct., Oct. 17.—Harry F. Morse, son of Charles W. Morse, will have to stand trial in the Southern District Court of New York on charges of conspiracy to defraud by use of mails, according to a decision today of United States Commissioner Lavery.

LLOYD GEORGE FOR NEW PARLIAMENT

London, Oct. 17.—A report was circulated by the Central News today that Premier Lloyd George had decided not to resign right away but would announce on Saturday dissolution of Parliament. The Premier will speak at Leeds on Saturday.

OLGA GOING HOME; ONE VAMP LESS

Olga Kurianska, self-styled "Rumanian belle," is heart broken.

The soulful-eyed beauty can no longer vamp Boston boys—she's got to go back to her old home in Rumania.

Too much liquor, too many parties and some score or so admirers led to police raiding Olga's home on Queensbury street.

Olga was sentenced to Sherborn but pleaded for one more chance. She got it. The court agreed she could go if she would leave the country. Today she appeared in Roxbury Court with her passports.

LOST ROXBURY GIRL SOUGHT BY POLICE

Police have been asked to find Bridget Kerns, eighteen years old, who disappeared from her home at No. 92 Shirley street, Roxbury, Saturday.

Her mother said she had scolded the girl for her friendship with another young woman and had locked up her clothes to keep her at home. She found the girl gone when she returned from a trip to a store.

The girl is described as a pretty blonde with bobbed hair. She is five feet three inches in height and weighs 120 pounds. She wore a sport suit when she left home.

FITZGERALD IN SHARP ATTACK ON GOV. COX

Greenfield, Oct. 17.—John F. Fitzgerald in rallies at Greenfield today, attacked Gov. Cox and the Republican administration, declaring: "The State House is cluttered with reactionary lame ducks, defeated Republican candidates for public office who were handed State plums."

Mr. Fitzgerald was applauded when he attacked the Republican press of the State, which, he charged, "will not dare to print his speeches." He defied Gov. Cox to defend his own record against the charges he had made.

"I dare him to attack one single act of my public life," said Mr. Fitzgerald.

"If Governor Cox would meet me on a platform and answer my questions successfully he could wipe me out as a candidate in one night. The reactionary Republicans who are responsible for the bankrupting of our railroads, the killing of the port of Boston and the highest living cost of the world in Massachusetts dare not let him."

He criticised the Boston & Maine and New Haven roads for their failure to attempt a settlement of the rail strike.

Fined for Drunken Driving

Robert S. Wallace, a cotton manufacturer of Fitchburg, was arraigned in Newton Court today for driving a car while intoxicated. He was fined $100. He paid.

HE DARKENED HIS GRAY HAIR

Tells How He Did It With Barbo Compound

Mr. J. A. McCrea, a well-known resident of California, who was called Daddy and Grandpa on account of his white hair, and who darkened it with a home-made mixture, recently made the following statement:

"Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home that will darken gray hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half-pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and ¼ ounce of glycerine.

These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. It does not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off."

Hub Evangelist

ERNEST W. GELLATLY

Ernest W. Gellatly, the twenty-one-year-old evangelist, who is storming the citadels of sin at the Clarendon Street Baptist Church in the South End every night this week, is a South End boy, having graduated from the English High School two years ago.

His first inclination to be an evangelist came from that institution.

ILLNESS OF STAR REUNITES HARTS

Los Angeles, Oct. 17.—After a separation of several months, William S. Hart, "Wild West" hero of the screen, and his wife, formerly Winifred Westover, have been reunited, according to a friend of the family. The grave illness of Hart, which kept him unconscious for three days and nights, caused Mrs. Hart to return. A son, William Hart, Jr., was born several weeks ago, but this did not effect a reconciliation.

FRIENDS AID MOTHER WHO GAVE UP SON

Robert Fisher, the eight-year-old Cambridge boy whose mother had to give him away because she was destitute, will soon be on his way to his new home at Goffstown, N. H.

Even though she realizes that she is doing the best she can for the boy, Mrs. Fisher is heartbroken at the coming loss of her little son.

Since her story was published in the Boston American a score of kind hearted citizens have come to her aid.

Mrs. William Davis, her landlady, reduced the rent $5 a month. Now, instead of facing eviction for not paying her rent, Mrs. Fisher knows she can stay until she is in a position to support herself and her family.

Mrs. J. M. Hade, to whom Mrs. Fisher was able to be of service a short while ago, has given a check for $20. Others who have helped with money are William Duncan, New York, $60; Max Nathan, Framingham, $2; John McLaren, Dorchester $50; A. F. G., New Hampshire, $5; "Monahan," Dorchester, $1, and a Friend, Revere, $5.

Many other persons have also given material help so that Mrs. Fisher has had a sum amounting to $253 placed in her hands.

"I do not know how I will ever be able to thank all those who have aided me in my trouble," Mrs. Fisher told the Boston American. "I did not realize that there were so many good people in the world. I would like to thank them all personally, but nearly all of those who helped me sent me aid without making their identity known. So I must ask the Boston American to thank them for me and I pray that God will bless them."

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS

Seattle, Wash.—That Alaska once was a tropical region is said to be indicated by a bone three feet long weighing fifty pounds brought here by F. A. Swift. He found the bone in a bank of the Koyukuk River, within the Arctic circle. It was twenty-five feet deep in gravel.

Fresno, Cal.—Albert Jing, Fresno-born Chinese and half owner of a local restaurant, has been appointed treasurer of the Chinese state of Kwangtung, Canton.

Tokio.—The "white front" has collapsed and Nikolsk has been abandoned by the anti-Bolshevik forces in Siberia. The Japanese will prevent the Red forces entering Vladivostok until the Japanese withdrawal is completed.

MISS HUGHES, ILL, TAKES NEW "CURE"

Toronto, Oct. 17.—Miss Elizabeth Hughes, fifteen-year-old daughter of Secretary of State Charles Evans Hughes, has been taking the Insulin treatment for diabetes here for about two months under the attention of Dr. F. G. Banting, discoverer of the treatment.

She has gained sixteen pounds and is eating everything, was the way one who knows her described her condition. Those who have suffered from diabetes or have come in contact with it will understand the significance of that statement.

3-ALARM NORTH END FIRE CAUSED BY LIQUOR STILL EXPLOSION

MYSTERY MEN ARE HUNTED

Were Seen in Building Where Explosion of Still and Fire Occurred

A loft in a North End building, which some tenants of floors below thought unoccupied, disclosed surprising tenancy today when a 100-gallon still exploded and caused a three-alarm fire.

The loft is on the top floor of the six-story Leopold Building at No. 80 Beverly street.

Fire Chief John O. Taber, who sent in the third alarm, called it a "flash" fire and a dangerous one because burning liquor resisted the water streams poured in by the fire apparatus.

Ladderman Cornelius Sullivan, Ladder 2 Company, was cut on the right cheek by falling glass so severely that it was necessary for him to go to the Relief Hospital for treatment.

The police said that they found between 300 and 400 gallons of alcohol in jugs and cans on the top floor.

After the department had drowned the fire, confining it to the top floor and $20,000 damage, the police began investigation.

Tenants of floors below said that they understood the top floor was vacant, but that a fortnight ago two men were noticed going up there. It was supposed they were there to view the premises for possible occupancy.

A sign on the building reads: "For floors in this building apply to Henry W. Savage, No. 10 State street."

SAVAGE CO. SURPRISED.

The office of the Henry W. Savage Company expressed utmost surprise today when informed that a still had been in operation on the top floor of the Leopold building. This floor, the office went on, was rented some months ago to an applicant who gave his name as William H. Ford and his business as dealer in second-hand materials. The Savage concern had no further information immediately at hand.

Beverly street runs one block east and parallel to Haverhill street, which runs from Haymarket square north toward the North Station.

The explosion came at 7:15 o'clock, before lower floor tenants had arrived. There was no loud report. The first known was when window glass on the front and back of the top floor of the Leopold building was blown out, with dense black smoke billowing out through the window spaces, followed by tongues of flame.

FLAMES CROSS ALLEY.

The flames from the rear windows licked across a narrow alley and scorched the top rear of the building at Nos. 89-91-93 Haverhill street.

Firemen and police searching the top floor after the fire found little left of the still except blackened and twisted sheets of metal, coils and other equipment. The cans and bottles of alcohol were seized to be held pending investigation as to how an illicit distillery could be operating in a manufacturing block in the midst of the busy section. The police also started a search for the mysterious tenants.

This photo of the dusky conqueror of Carpentier was snapped just after Siki had whipped the Frenchman and was celebrating the victory with his white wife and baby. The battling Sengalese is shown holding the pride and joy of the Siki household in his hands. Siki's Caucasian spouse shares the popularity he enjoys in Paris. Siki meets Joe Beckett next, and Siki, Jr., is yowling for another victory.

POSTPONE FIRING OF BIG HARBOR GUNS

The firing of the six and twelve-inch guns at Fort Standish, Boston harbor, was abandoned today on account of the cloudy atmosphere. Captain Ralph McLeod, C. A. C., National Guard, and Lieutenant David Pfromm, C. A. C., N. G., were on hand at the base to witness the firing. It will take place the first clear day, according to Lieutenant Foss of the office of Coast Artillery Corps.

LOUD TALK RINGS IN FALSE FIRE ALARM

The sensitiveness of the fire alarm at army base, South Boston, and its connection with the time clock system, caused a false alarm to be sounded today. It is supposed loud talking on the part of some employe affected the time clock and that stirred up the fire alarm.

TURKS FIRED ON U. S. SHIP, SAYS WOMAN DOCTOR

Mitylene, Oct. 17 (By the Associated Press).—Dr. Mabel Elliott of Benton Harbor, Mich., director of medical work for refugees on the islands off the Smyrna coast, will leave this week or Athens, having been invited by the American relief committee to become medical director for the entire refugee area.

Upon her return Sunday from Chios, Dr. Elliott said she had met Lieutenant-Commander Herbert A. Ellis of the American destroyer Macleish.

"The Turks had again fired on the destroyer at Iverly (Aivali?) and a rifle bullet came within a few feet of Commander Ellis," she said.

(Despatches from Athens early this month said an American destroyer had been bombarded by the Turks while taking off refugees at a Aivali, a town north of Smyrna. The report at the time was discredited in Washington because of the lack of official confirmation through the Navy Department.)

1,200 French Troops Rushed to Thrace

Constantinople, Oct. 16. (By the Associated Press).—Twelve hundred French troops left Constantinople today for Adrianople, where a serious situation is reported occasioned by the evacuation of the Greek army. The movement of such a large number of French troops into the capital of Thrace is taken to signify the allied command regards the disturbed state of things as grave.

It may result in a protest from the Greeks.

Turks Angered by Lloyd George Speech

Constantinople, Oct. 17 (By the Associated Press).—Prime Minister Lloyd George's Manchester speech on the Near East, of which a summary reached Constantinople last night, has created a furor among the Kemalist followers here. The entire summary was telegraphed immediately to Angora.

"This speech," said the Kemalist representative here, "Completely shatters the confidence which we were reposing in Great Britain after her assurances to us at Mudania."

The phrase in which as received here, the Kemalists were compared with "warlike animals," particularly displeased the Nationalist delegate.

30,000, in Pitiable State, Flee From Adrianople

Adrianople, Oct. 17 (By the Associated Press). — Thirty thousand Greeks and Armenians have passed from this city to the west since Saturday, and the road between here and the Maritza River is an unbroken line of men, women and children with oxcarts, cattle and camels.

The misery of the refugees is extreme, and pneumonia will claim many victims if the present inclement weather continues. The American in charge of the little Near East relief soup kitchen at the railway junction on the opposite side of the Maritza declared.

"In all my experience I never imagined such a pitiable sight as the march from Adrianople in the driving rain. Every refugee arrives soaked to the skin with a wagon load of bedding floating in water.

Venizelos Declares He Will Retire

London, Oct. 17 (By the Associated Press). — Former Premier Venizelos of Greece declined today to discuss the report from Athens that a Republican movemet is on foot with the object of making Venizelos president, but he declared he was irrevocably determined to retire to private life as soon as the Turkish peace treaty was signed.

British Alarmed by Conditions in Thrace

Constantinople, Oct. 17 (By the Associated Press).—Very disturbed conditions exist in Thrace, it is revealed by a British official statement issued today.

"The population is undoubtedly in a very disturbed state," says the statement.

"Although no concrete cases of serious disorders are reported, the allied generals feel that this is a time when everyone should keep his head and not lend himself to panic."

Greek Ship Captured by Turkish Gunboat

Constantinople, Oct. 17. (By the Associated Press).—A Turkish gunboat in the Black Sea has captured the Greek steamer Ourania, of 2,500 tons, carrying a cargo of wood from Constanza to Constantinople. The steamer was stopped near Midia and boarded by a Turkish prize crew. She was towed to Heraclea and the captain and crew were declared prisoners of war. This marks the first appearance since last March of the Kemalist navy, which consists of two obsolete Turkish gunboats and one torpedo boat destroyer.

147 FLEE IRISH JAIL; FAT MAN BLOCKS 1,200

By DENIS O'CONNELL.

Universal Service Staff Correspondent.

Special Cable to Universal Service.

Dublin, Oct. 17.—Only for a fat man whose bulk clogged the road to escape through a sewer, 1,400 Irregulars would have escaped from Curragh prison.

One of the greatest jail deliveries in the history of Ireland, carefully planned and promising to be entirely successful was frustrated by the fat of one of the prisoners.

Disconnecting an old and unused drain leading from the prison to the river Liffey the entire population of the prison planned to escape.

Forming themselves in groups the Irregulars silently eluded the guards and crept through the drain to the river and swam to the other side to safety.

The one hundred and forty-eighth man got stuck midway of the drain and was unable to go ahead or get back. The others behind him were unable to turn around on account of the smallness of the passage.

DEPARTED GOLFERS THRONG ASTRAL LINKS, SAYS SPIRITUALIST

BASEBALL ALSO RAGE IN HEAVEN

Angels Caddy for Golf Fans, and Celestial Scoreboards Give World's Series Returns

By A. J. LORENZ

Chicago, Oct. 17 — Astral Links, with clouds for bunkers and the stars for greens, provide recreation for departed golf fans. Shooting stars that curve over the skies are nothing but well laid mashie shots.

Heaven's appeal to one's sporting blood was thus outlined at the opening of the convention of the National Association of Spiritualists.

"'If a man has spent twenty years, say, playing golf, or attending baseball games, he will undoubtedly maintain his interest in sport on 'the other side,'" declared Mark H. Barwise of Bangor, Me., a delegate to the convention.

Golf, in fact, is especially adapted as a spirit sport, according to Dr. George B. Warne, president of the association, who declared that the feet are the first members of the body to become spiritualized, the arms and hands come next.

"When death occurs," said Dr. Warne, "the feet grow cold first, then the hands and arms, and last of all the brain."

Mr. Barwise, who introduced himself as "just a Yankee lawyer from down Maine way," does not impress one as the sort of person who "sees things." He said that he has had several messages from friends which indicate that life continues in almost a normal way after death, even to the small diversions.

The golfer who has almost despaired of getting his score under a hundred will have all eternity for practice, he believes.

Heavenly foursomes, with angelic caddies, are traversing the unlimited links to their spirits content. Of course, it's impossible to hear the whir and snap of the earthly game when the spirit golfer hits his ectoplasmic floater ball with an ectoplasmic brassie.

But the thrill is there, just the same, even to the sclaff and scurff when the spirit duballices from the milky fairyway into the rough of the pleiades. This was the delightful peep Mr. Barwise afforded into the sporting life of the hereafter.

"I am by no means sure," he went on in all seriousness, "that there are not splendidly laid out golf links in Heaven."

During the world's series, departed Yankee rooters, for instance, —— all upset over the victory of the Giants. The spirit fans, who were unable to "haunt" the diamonds, contented themselves with thronging the celestial scoreboards, watching the game, play by play, according to Mr. Barwise.

"You see, it's like this," he said. "The life beyond is simply a continuation of our life here. Death is not the sharp break that we think it is.

"There is no reason to believe that a person's major, predominant interests, as well as his hobbies, the things he loves in this life, will not be carried on in the other world.

"This, of course, providing they are clean, worthy interests, and I, for one, see nothing wrong in golf or baseball."

Professions followed in this life, if they are agreeable and useful in the next, may be carried on almost without interruption, said President Warne.

"Many persons," he explained, "are forced by economic necessity to follow disagreeable occupations. They have no opportunity to follow their real vocations. They will have this opportunity in the beyond."

Dr. Warne differs with Sir Arthur Conan Doyle regarding the life hereafter of animal pets.

"Animals have never been known to materialize," he declared.

Boston Society Debutante to Spend Year In Study Abroad, Betty Alden Says

MISS MARCIA HOPKINS

Off for a year's study in Paris is Miss Marcia Hopkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Gage Hopkins, who was presented to society last June.

By BETTY ALDEN.

THERE was a chorus of surprised "Ohs" and "Ahs" from the ranks of the 1922-23 debutantes when they heard that one of their number had sailed for gay Paree for a year's study there.

The young person in question is Miss Marcia Gage Hopkins daughter of the Roland Gage Hopkinses, who was presented last June at a tea dance which her parents gave for her at Gladwood, the Hopkins place at Chestnut Hill. The presentation took place just a few days after the young bud had graduated from the Winsor School. I understand that next Fall she plans to enter Vassar, so that the gay frivolities which play an important part in the life of most "debbies" will be more or less dispensed with so far as Miss Hopkins is concerned.

During her stay at the French capital the young Boston girl will be with some of her mother's friends, with whom she made the trip across.

ALLAN FORBES of Boston has been spending a few days at the Muenchinger King in Newport, where members of the so-called Summer colony are making a very long season of it. Quite a few of the estates along the Cliffs will be kept open until Thanksgiving, in fact.

GALVIN'S old building at the corner of Boylston and Fairfield streets is to be the scene of another hectic scramble today and tor orow, for members of the Tideover League are holding a rummage sale there.

At several of the rummage sales held in the same place last year, I recollect that stalwart guardians of the law had to be called in to handle the crowds of prospective customers. Finally the "relay" system was evolved, which permitted only a certain number of persons to be in the building at once, others standing outside in line and waiting their turn.

Such prominent matrons as Mrs. Henry P. King, Mrs. George S. Mandell and Mrs. Thomas Motley, Jr., have been collecting articles for the affair.

PAYING a round of visits in this country are Canon Carnegie of London and Mrs. Carnegie, the latter a daughter of Mrs. William C. Endicott of Boston. Mrs. Carnegie was the widow of Joseph Chamberlain when she was married to her present husband.

The Carnegies were in the very distinguished house party recently given by Mr. and Mrs. Henry White (Emily Vanderbilt) at Elm Court, their Lenox villa. More recently the Carnegies have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Glyn at Newport.

THOSE two dashing sisters, Berthe and Francesca Braggiotti, never fail to attract an admiring audience whenever they are called upon to "twinkle their toes."

Ever since these two young women entered the ranks of the professional dancing world, society has always noted with interest the announcement of any appearance by them. I expect that quite a fashionable audience will make its way to Jordan Hall on the evening of the 18th, for on that date the Misses Braggiotti are to dance at a menefit of the Scollay Square Service Club.

The two youthful dancers spent the Summer at Mariaden, Mrs. Guy Currier's famous Summer dancing school at Peterboro, and more recently they have been studying in New York under famous Japanese and Russian teachers.

B. SUMNER WELLES is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Newbold Morris at Brookhurst, their Lenox estate, where they are also entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Francis V. L. Hoppin and Miss Daisy V. Hollins.

Mr. Welles' wife, formerly Miss Esther Slater, has joined the Autumn colony at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., where her two young sons are with her.

RENT LAWS ATTACKED AT REALTY DINNER

An attack on legislators who would enact rent laws was made by Charles G. Edwards, president of the Real Estate Board of New York, speaking at the Fall reunion and dinner of the Boston Real Estate Exchange. "We have rent laws in New York, but we trust that we will be rid of them in November, 1923," the speaker declared. "And we also trust that you men here in Massachusetts and that the men in no other State will be visited with a like misfortune."

WORLD SPEED RECORD SET BY ARMY FLIER

Mt. Clemens, Mich., Oct. 17 (By the Associated Press).—Aeronautical engineers and army and navy experts were speculating today to what might be the next unheard of aerial feat. They came here a week ago prepared for surprises but none had expected to see a human being plunge through space at nearly 400 feet a second, nor had they expected to see an airplane flown virtually without the aid of wings.

This was the performance of Lieutenant R. L. Maughan of the army, who yesterday traveled one kilometer at the rate of 248.5 miles an hour, surpassing by more than 32 miles, the previous official record and making the distance 28 miles an hour faster than any unrecognized mark previously recorded.

The record-breaking flight was part of the government tests of a score of new type planes built for the national air races. Lieutenant Maughan's feat, it was said, would virtually decide the type of plane the army will select to develop as the standard for the pursuit group.

The pilot's great speed was even surpassed by his "flight without wings."

At more than 200 miles an hour he would tilt his machine one side for a considerable distance, then complete the 120 degree turns upside down. This aroused speculation as to the distance a machine might be flown on its side, a position in which the planes had little or nothing to do with keeping it in the air.

Lieutenant Maughan believes that under certain conditions a plane might be flown in that position for a much greater distance that usually is required in making turns.

LEGION HAILS LANDIS AND GOMPERS

By International News Service.

New Orleans, Oct. 17.—Samuel Gompers, ruler of organized labor, and former Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, czar of organized baseball, joined today at the convention of the American Legion in paying tribute to the leading part played by the nation's ex-service men in helping win the World War.

As Messrs. Gompers and Landis appeared together on the same platform they were accorded a tumultuous welcome by the former "doughboys" and "gobs."

The white-haired judge was surrounded by a group of baseball fans eager to swap opinions with him as to why Babe Ruth did not deliver a home run in the recent Yankee disaster at New York City. They wanted to know if he did not agree with them that "Jawn" McGraw was "some manager." The judge faced the fire of baseball fans with a good-natured grin.

"I'll never miss an American Legion convention as long as I live," was Judge Landis' greeting to them. "I want to see you boys continue your constructive efforts toward higher Americanism."

"The great organization of the workers and the great organization of the veterans of the World War, most of whom are workers by hand or brain, have every good thing in common," said Mr. Gompers. "These two great organizations are perhaps above all other responsible for the future of America. There is no good thing that we can not accomplish for our country and its people if we but put our strength into the task."

COMBINE TO MAKE WAR ON CHILD LABOR

Washington, Oct. 17.—Agencies waging the fight for a constitutional amendment to set a minimum Federal standard in child labor legislation, are consolidating their activities for a determined stand at the next session of the Congress. In only thirteen States are adequate child labor laws in force, according to the Children's Bureau. These are Illinois, Alabama, Connecticut, Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, New York, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, Tennessee, West Virginia and Wisconsin.

GLASS OF SALTS CLEANS KIDNEYS

If your Back hurts, drink lots of water and take Jad Salts.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean, like you keep your bowels clean by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which helps to remove the body's urinous waste and stimulate them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus often ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink, which everyone should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this; also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

KILLED AS HE SPURNS WOMAN

Slayer Tries to End Her Life by Jumping From a Window

New York, Oct. 17.—Oscar M. Martelliere, real estate and insurance broker, who was shot five times by Mrs. Paulette Saludes, a diminutive French woman, died early today in the Beekman Street Hospital.

The shooting occurred in Martelliere's downtown office and was witnessed by his stenographer Miss Gertrude Thompson.

Mrs. Saludes, who made unsuccessful efforts to end her own life by jumping from the window of a lawyer's office, where she hurried after shooting Martelliere, is under arrest.

Martelliere's widow told police that Mrs. Saludes told her several days ago that she loved Martelliere and that he had promised to marry her if he could get a divorce.

WARNED OF TRAGEDY.

Mrs. Martelliere said she informed Mrs. Saludes she would not stand in her way, and asked her, "Are you sure he will marry you?" Mrs. Saludes replied. Mrs. Martelliere said, "'Well, if he doesn't something terrible will happen to him.'"

Mrs. Martelliere went to the telephone and warned her husband. The broker left his office and shortly afterwards Mrs. Saludes entered. Finding the desk vacant she left the following note:

"As you don't want to put a stop to it, I will. Am going to see Mr. Turley, who is waiting for me, right away. You will not be long outside of jail."

Martelliere returned to his office soon after.

A short time later Mrs. Saludes came back. She brushed by Miss Thompson, the broker's secretary, and rushing up to Martelliere placed her hand in her handbag.

"Are you going to do what I want you to do?" she cried in a shrill voice.

"No I am not," replied Martelliere grimly, looking up at her.

SHOOTS AT CLOSE RANGE.

"Then you shall suffer," exclaimed Mrs. Saludes, stamping her foot and drawing a 25-calibre automatic pistol from her handbag.

At close range and taking careful aim she fired five shots into Martelliere's body, not heeding his shouted pleas for mercy.

Then Mrs. Saludes replaced the pistol in her handbag and run into the corridor, screaming with fright.

Mrs. Saludes is thirty and pretty in a doll-like way. Her husband left her eighteen months ago, but so far as known there was no divorce. The husband is understood to be in France. The friendship of Martelliere and Mrs. Saludes was of long standing, and after the woman's husband left this country it is alleged that she asked the insurance broker to help her financially.

This friendship grew more and more ardent on the woman's part and finally she demanded Martelliere divorce his wife so that they could be married.

Mrs. Martelliere is a handsome blonde of German descent. She said that she did not feel sorry for her husband's plight as they had separated on numerous occasions and at such time he had failed to help her support their child.

Salem man on trial accused of attacking two Salem youths. He was originally held as a suspect in the murder of little Henry McMahon.

Salem, Oct. 17.—A large crowd was present at Superior Criminal Court today when the trial of Antonio Costello of this city was resumed. Costello is charged with attacking two Salem boys. He was at one time suspected by the police of the murder of Henry McMahon, the Salem boy who was brutally killd and left in a field in an outlying section of the city.

The government could not find evidence to connect him with that crime. Many friends of the dead boy and of the other two boys attacked were on hand at the opening of the trial Monday.

work. Let young gentlemen write one thing on their tablets: "Nothing worth while is easy, and he who is taking it easy, is doing nothing worth while."

After Benner calls himself "the luckiest man in Maine," because this year he has found 161 four-leaf clovers, plus 45 with five leaves and 33 with six leaves. It sounds impressive. Then you reflect that one four-leafed clover on one graveyard rabbit's foot could probably do as much for you as a thousand—which is exactly nothing at all. Mr. Benner of Maine could have read at least one good book while he was finding the 161 four-leaf clovers.

COMBATS RIGHT TO LIQUOR AS 'SEA STORES'

New York, Oct. 17 (By International News Service).—Foreign nations today launched a vigorous attack upon Attorney-General Harry M. Daugherty's ruling that liquor may not be brought into the territorial waters of the United States by foreign ships.

Representatives of foreign steamship lines went before Federal Judge Hand and asked for a permanent injunction against enforcement of the Daugherty dictum.

Early in the hearing it became evident a stiff battle would ensue over the difference between liquor in cargo and in "ship stores."

If foreign ships are allowed to bring liquor into United States ports, under the guise of "ship stores" enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution and of the Volstead Act, will be impossible, Colonel William Hayward, United States District Attorney for the southern district of New York declared.

WOULD "NULLIFY" LAW.

"If these foreign ships are allowed to bring their liquor in merely by placing it under lock and calling it a part of the ship's stores," Hayward said, "every wretched, rascally bootlegger pirate ship along the coast will use that ruling as a cloak behind which to flood the Atlantic coast with illicit booze.

"The efforts of the government to enforce the prohibition laws would be almost entirely nullified."

The issue, as outlined by former Judge Van Vechten Veeder, counsel for the several British steamship lines, is whether the mere presence of liquor in the sea stores of foreign vessels within the territorial waters of the United States comes within the restrictions of the Eighteenth Amendment of the American Constitution and the prohibition enforcement act. The contention of the foreign ship owners is that they do not.

"SEA STORES" DEFINED.

Sea stores of vessels, Judge Veeder declared, have been recognized from time immemorial as one of the subjects of the internal affairs of the ship and therefore not subject to the regulations of a foreign country.

Sea stores, the lawyer continued, which do not leave the ship, cannot be regarded as liquor in transportation, and therefore do not come under the provisions of the prohibition laws.

WOULD UPSET SCHEDULES.

Other contentions advanced by the foreign steamship companies are that enforcement of the Daugherty ruling would disrupt sailing schedules, prevent fulfillment of shipping obligations and result in huge financial losses to foreign shippers.

The status of foreign vessels, Judge Veeder continued, has been recognized as differing from that of American ships. The Daugherty opinion, he asserted, had changed this status in violation of statutory and constitutional provisions.

death will be sought in Dorchester District Court. The charge will be manslaughter.

The dead man was one of four whose automobile crashed into a bridge the night of October 9. He is believed to have been catapulted into the water by the impact.

The machine skidded on Granite avenue bridge, ripped through a section of iron railing and stopped against a girder. The car was badly wrecked.

All in the automobile were bruised and cut. In the excitement immediately following Ruggles' absence was unnoticed. Harbor police later dragged the river.

In the party were Frank J. Gillespie, thirty, No. 2168 Dorchester avenue, owner and driver of the machine; George McDonald, twenty-five, of No. 275 Codman street, and Thomas O'Day, twenty-five, of No. 328 Washington street, Dorchester.

No explanation is as yet forthcoming as to the absence of outer clothing on Ruggles' body.

GEN. COLE DEMANDS SHOWDOWN BY SCREEN CENSOR ADVOCATE

IMPROPER FILMS BARRED BY PRESENT LAW

General Charles H. Cole, Chairman of the Committee of Massachusetts Citizens Against Censorship, has thrown down the gauntlet to the enemy.

He has challenged B. Preston Clark, leading advocate for censorship, to either prove that improper films are being shown in this State at the present time or to retract assertions to that effect, made by Mr. Clark.

Furthermore, the general calls on Mr. Clark, as chairman of the State Committee on Motion Pictures and as a citizen, to furnish the authorities with information regarding improper films, so that the guilty ones may be brought to justice and the films barred from this State.

SECOND CHALLENGE.

This is the second challenge of this kind. Mr. Clark declined the first call for a showdown. General Cole, in behalf of his committee, asked Mr. Clark to join with him and with a committee from the Federated Women's Clubs, in inspecting films alleged by Mr. Clark to be improper. But this, Mr. Clark will not do.

The general charged Mr. Clark with being "evasive" and said that "if you are making a charge to the voters which has no foundation in fact, then fairness demands that you immediately retract your statement."

The Boston American censorship contest is attracting wide attention and the doom of the bill is seen in the letters that are pouring in from all corners of the State. First prize for the best letter is $250; second prize, $100, and third prize, $50. An award of $2 is given for every letter published.

Here are a few of the best:

PICTURES SPOILED

Editor Boston American:

There is one phase of this subject which I will stress here. I have personally experienced State censorship, having lived for several years in Maryland, and many a picture has been spoiled by this method of insuring purity of vision for the public.

In Baltimore one frequently hears the remark: "Let us go over to Washington and see the real picture, instead of one all cut up by the censors."

Is not the National Board of Censorship capable of determining whether or not a picture will have a demoralizing effect on the public which will view it?

If not, then let pressure be brought to bear upon them so that they shall perform their duty more efficiently. But of all things, spare us the local board of censorship.

(MRS. S. S.) DOROTHY Y. BURGEY
No. 268 Brookline avenue.

WHO IS COMPETENT

Editor Boston American:

Who is competent to be movie censor? Strict censoring means discouragement to the actors, writers and film producers and lack of enjoyment to the poor, hardworking people. Censorship means fewer pictures, higher prices and entertainments we do not care for.

Why should moving pictures be censored any more than newspapers, books or magazines. A great deal of our pictures are taken from books and novels of some of our greatest authors. If they are good enough to read they are good enough to see.

FRANK FALASEA.
No. 5 Dunham Park, South Boston.

HIGH STANDARD NOW

Editor Boston American:

The advocates of censorship of motion pictures either miss, or intentionally disregard, the real point of the situation.

It must be sincerely doubted if the overwhelming majority of those seeking to establish or retain censorship have the remotest idea of the methods employed by every recognized producer to assure themselves that every picture made, without exception, must attain a certain standard (and that standard is extremely high) before it is exhibited to the public.

The advocates of censorship indicate, by their statements, that lewd, obscene or indecent motion pictures are profitable commercial ventures for their producers.

If any motion pictures have been produced in the United States which may, by competent and unbiased judges, be so classed, I am absolutely certain that the producers must truthfully say they were failures, because the laws of our country prohibit their exhibition, and in consequence the cost of their production was wasted.

STEPHEN G. BURKE.
No. 156 Vassall street, Wollaston.

THEME ALWAYS MORAL

Editor Boston American:

In my mind one, if not the greatest, factor in the question has been entirely neglected. I think that we all realize that the censorship would be tyranical, unconstitutional and taking a right from the people. I wish to mention education in this letter and the value of the motion picture in maintaining it.

A prominent movie producer states that the moving picture theatres in the United States alone will seat, at the present day, 8,000,000 people. They demand the production of 10,000,000 feet of film a week and the business is the fifth in importance in the United States. Another prominent man in educational research states that 90 per cent. of the knowledge that human beings imbibe is recorded in the brain through the agency of the eye. What other way have we for reaching the people that would compete with these figures?

There is not a movie produced which has not a moral as its theme. The human mind demands this moral in the form of justice. Thousands of people who cannot read attend the movies and gain invaluable lessons from these portrayed morals. I do not mean the knowledge thus gained is the "one and one is two" variety, but the kind that teaches the moral lessons of life and brotherhood of man. Probably the most striking example of this was the play which was screened at the time of the war: "Fit to Fight."

Ministers use the Holy Bible today as their most important key to teaching the gospel. Is there anything in those lessons which would be censored if it were to be screened? Most certainly.

DAVID M. MARCH,
No. 306 Bay State Rd.,
Boston

Why Movie Censor Is Unnecessary

THE PRESENT LAW

(Section 32, Chapter 272, General Laws.)

Whoever, as owner, manager, director, agent or in any other capacity, prepares, advertises, gives, presents or participates in any lewd, indecent, immoral or impure show or entertainment or in any show or entertainment suggestive of lewdness, obscenity, indecency, immorality or impurity, or in any show or entertainment manifestly tending to corrupt the morals of youth, shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than one year or by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars, or both."

THE PROPOSED LAW

(Chapter 438 of the Acts of 1921.)

"It shall be unlawful for any person to exhibit or display publicly in this Commonwealth any motion picture film unless such film has been submitted to and approved by the Commissioner of Public Safety, who may, subject to the appeal given by the act, disapprove any film or part thereof which is obscene, indecent, immoral, inhuman or tends to debase or corrupt morals or incite to crime, and may, subject to the approval of the Governor and Council, make rules and regulations for the enforcement of the act."

(Violation of this law carries a fine of $50 for first offense and of $100 for each succeeding offense.)

Fear "Politics" if Film Csenor Were Appointed

That the word of a movie censor in Massachusetts would be controlled, to some degree, by the political party in power, is the claim of some Boston workers, who discussed the subject today. The censor, it is true, is appointed by the Commissioner of Public Safety, but the Governor and his Council pass upon candidates before one is chosen.

Miss Lucille Crawley, No. 362 Windsor street, Cambridge, says: "One has only to read the Constitution to know that censorship of the movies is directly opposed to its principles. For it is suppressing one of our chief forms of instruction and entertainment. It is hard to believe that sane Americans can really allow such a silly bill to go as far as this one has gone. I certainly look for its defeat in November.

Lucille Crawley.

Miss Edna Donnelly, No. 15 Upland road, Cambridge, is of the following opinion: "Any attempt to censor moving pictures should meet with the fate it deserves, namely, a defeat that will show, for all time, that the people of this State are tired of having a small minority meddle in the affairs of the public. If this bill is accepted at the November election, then, in 1923, the voters will probably have to vote on newspaper censorship, for that will be the next step."

Edna Donnelly.

Francis J. Lombard, No. 13½ Soden street, Cambridge, said: "We have enough laws now to take care of improper moving pictures. To appoint a censor would not only be needless but very expensive. The cost of censorship enforcement should be considered by every voter, for there will certainly be a heavy outlay of public money for this purpose. I say down with censorship and those who are trying to put it over."

Francis J. Lombard.

Frank Hagan, No. 56 Church street, Somerville, is an ardent anti-censor man. He says: "Another attempt to make a soft political job. It stands to reason that the party in power will have something to say as to what shall be censored. Is that justice? We have enough alleged reforms now, without adding one more to the disgraceful list. Keep movie censorship out of Massachusetts. It will only be used as a wedge to take away some other liberties from the people."

Frank Hagan.

Girls! Wear Smaller Shoes and With More Comfort. You Can.

The Magic Touch of Ice-Mint Does It.

This winter girls will be wearing smaller and prettier shoes than ever. Thanks to a new discovery called Ice-Mint, foot troubles will soon be a thing of the past.

Ice-Mint is a clean, snow-white creamy preparation made from pure Japanese mint, camphor and menthol. It instantly cools, soothes and relieves tired, aching, burning feet, reduces the swelling and enables one to wear shoes a size or two smaller with ease and comfort.

It takes the sting out of painful corns, callouses and bunions so quickly that you will just sigh with relief.

Oh! how good it feels! What wonderful relief! Ice-Mint is a joy forever to those who are obliged to stand on their feet all day. Just a touch or two of Ice-Mint at night and instantly the feet feel cool, comfortable and rested. It makes a new person out of a grouchy foot sufferer in just two minutes by the clock.

No more puffy, swollen, corn-aching feet. No more foot trouble. Ice-Mint will bring you the foot comfort you have longed for and enable you to wear smaller shoes with ease and comfort. Ice-Mint costs little and is sold and recommended by good druggists everywhere. There is nothing better.

Kidney Troubles HAVE TO GO

Clogged Up Kidney Deposits are Dissolved and the Toxins (Poisons) Completely Driven Out. Druggists Told to Guarantee It in Every Instance. The Use for Carey's Prescription No. 777.

"Your very life," says Dr. Carey, "depends upon the perfect functioning and health of your kidneys, so whatever you do don't neglect them."

Dr. Carey's famous Prescription No. 777 (known for years as Marshroot) is not recommended for everything, but we cannot too strongly urge its use if you suffer from annoying bladder troubles, frequent passing of water night and day, with smarting or irritation, brick dust sediment or highly colored urine, bloating, irritability, with loss of flesh, or any other tendency to Bright's Disease, Diabetes or Gravel, for kidney disease in its worst form may be stealing upon you.

Don't wait until tomorrow to begin the use of this wonderful prescription, now obtainable in both liquid and tablet form, if you have any of the above symptoms. Kidney and Bladder troubles won't wear away. They will grow upon you slowly, stealthily and with unfailing certainty. If you even suspect that you are subject to Kidney Disease, don't lose a single day, for Epstein Drug Co., Armstrong Co.'s stores and every good druggist has been authorized to return the purchase money on the first big bottle to all who state they have received no benefit.

I was irritable and could not sleep nights and had trouble with my bowels and at my periods. It seemed that nearly every one around me knew of your medicine and wanted me to try it, so at last I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Tablets and Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine and improved every day. I do all my own work now except the washing and do it with ease. I can accomplish as much in a day now as it would have taken me a week to do last winter and I try to get every one I know to take your medicine to build them up. You are welcome to use this letter as a testimonial if you like."—Mrs. CHAS. BAKER, 21 Spencer Ave., Hornell, N.Y.

In almost every neighborhood there are women who know of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They know because they have taken it and have been helped. Why don't you give it a trial?

FATHER FIGHTS TO KEEP HIS DAUGHTER

Arthur D'Avignon of No. 2 Castle street, Waltham, thought himself safely married for seventeen years. He has now discovered, two years after his wife's death, that she was married to another man, Edward Parker of Halifax, Nova Scotia.

Mr. D'Avignon's chief worry is that he is threatened with the loss of his fifteen-year-old daughter, Ethelia, by the action of State probation officers unless he can prove her legitimacy.

APPEALS FOR AID.

His only hope lies in the fact that his wife's first husband Edward W. Parker, who deserted her twenty years ago in Portsmouth, N. H., may have died or divorced her prior to her death.

Mr. D'Avignon has appealed to the Boston American to help him unravel his strange marital tangle and find some trace of Edward Parker, either dead or alive, to enable him to make definite headway to regain the custody of his daughter.

The disclosure of his wife's past history came after neighbors claimed that Ethelia was neglected, and that Mr. D'Avignon was incapable of being a good father to her. An investigation was made and the daughter was placed under the probation of the Waltham Court and State probation officer, pending further investigation.

BLAMES NEIGHBORS.

Both father and daughter are heartbroken over the separation.

"I may be very poor," says Mr. D'Avignon, "but I can clothe and feed my daughter. The bad things neighbors have said about me are not true. A lot of jealousy and religious prejudice exists because I took my daughter out of the parochial school and sent her to the Waltham public school and send her to the Methodist Church instead of the Catholic Church, which was my wife's." Now they talk about me and try to have my daughter taken from me."

AD EXPERT LOOKS FOR BIG TRADE

Nationwide trade revival of huge proportions was predicted by Charles W. Myers, advertising manager of Morris & Co., packers, of Chicago, speaking today before the weekly meeting of the Pilgrim's Publicity Association at the association's headquarters, here.

"Our tremendous national resources and stabilized monetary conditions augur well for the future," he said. "We should be planning right now to stimulate, encourage and create the business which all of us so urgently require."

He made these remarks in the course of his talk on "Who Was the First Advertising Man?" He said that the first advertising man was "he who first understood his merchandise, his markets and his media." He concluded: "Our best days are before us. Let us rise to the return of prosperity and through our past experience show 100 per cent. efficiency—plus!"

RAIL, TELEGRAPHERS ASK UNIFORM RULES

Chicago, Oct. 17. (By International News Service).—A demand for the re-establishment of the continuous eight-hour day and an interpretation of other working rules was made of the United States Labor Board today by E. J. Manion, president of the order of Railway Telegraphers.

The rules put into effect by the board last March, Manion asserted, are interpreted in so many different ways that a uniform ruling is nesessary.

DRIVER HURT IN TRIPLE AUTO CRASH

One auto driver was seriously injured and two trucks and a taxicab wrecked today in a three-machine collision at Tremont and Bromfield streets.

Angelo Ceggiano, thirty years old and married, of No. 154 Bremen street, East Boston, driving a truck of the Standard Leather and Findings Company, No. 306 Hanover street, had the steering wheel of his car driven into his stomach when a truck behind, driven by William J. Burns, No. 95 Childs street, Jamaica Plain, ran into his car, bunting it into the rear of a taxicab ahead of him. Traffic Officer William H. Morris had Ceggiano removed to the relief hospital.

AVIATOR FALLS 500 FEET TO HIS DEATH

San Antonio, Tex., Oct. 17.—Lieutenant Walter A. Ball, 27 years old, stationed at Kelly Field, was crushed to death today when his airplane fell 500 feet.

The aviator was flying a single-seated plane over the southern part of the city and it crashed at the intersection of two highways.

Ball was married, his wife residing here.

Prison Heads Chose Boston

Sanford Bates notified Gov. Cox today that the next congress of the National Prison Association will be held in Boston in Setember.

"And they lived happily ever after"

Mr. Fred Williams rose at 7.15. He was decidedly out of sorts and he didn't care who knew it. Mrs. Williams and the cat took refuge in the kitchen.

Fred cut himself shaving—there was no hot water for his bath—the soap slipped out of his hand, as soap will do—doggone it, the whole day seemed to be starting wrong.

Then suddenly he stopped and took a long, soul-satisfying breath.

Mrs. Williams was making Coffee. The aroma of it—the mellow fragrance of it—the irresistible appeal of it came floating in to Fred with its glad "good morning." It was like the handclasp of some old and trusted friend.

From that instant all was well in the Williams household. "Feeling fit as a king," said Fred as he kissed his wife good-bye. "I tell you, there's nothing like a good cup of Coffee to cheer one up in the morning."

Mrs. Williams, being a clever little woman, smiled happily and made a note on her daily calendar.

NEVER HAD TWINS. SAYS ACCUSED SLAYER, 'MOTHER' OF DOLLS

TELLS HER STORY IN CELL

Neighbor, However, Insists She Saw Babies in the Home of Woman

By SARAH F. LEWIS

Copyright, 1922, by Chicago Evening American. Copyright, 1922, by International News Service. Reproduction Prohibited.

Hammond, Ind., Oct. 17.—Mrs. Hazel McNally, twenty-six years old, wife of Frank McNally, forty-seven, who accuses her of the murder of their twins, a boy and a girl, today denied she killed her babies.

"I have never had children," she told me.

Mrs. James Griffith, a nurse, made this statement, however:

"I saw the children when I attended Mrs. McNally for the eight days following December 8."

Mrs. McNally's husband says he has never seen the faces of his children.

Gray-clad, and with her blonde hair softly drawn back from her fairly aesthetic face, Mrs. McNally sat in her cell at the police station and told her story.

"In November, 1920, I saw Mr. McNally's advertisement in a Chicago paper for a housekeeper," she said. "I was ill and decided this was a splendid opportunity to recuperate. He was living at West Hammond.

"Five months after I entered his employ we were married. That was on April 22, 1921.

"Some time in December, the eighth I think, I bought two dolls and told Mr. McNally they were alive.

"I wanted to be sure he loved children. Later I told him about the dolls. That was all there was to it.

"I have not borne twins since May 5, 1919, when I underwent a major operation. I have been incapable of motherhood. About September, 1921, we moved to Hammond.

"This August we went to South Bend. On September 22, I left Mr. McNally because I felt I could no longer bear his little underhand tricks.

"On October 7 I returned to South Bend at the request of Mr. McNally's daughter. Frank asked me to return to him. I refused.

"I was therefore arrested on a charge of assault and battery and held on $5,000 bail. I was released, ordered held for Hammond, and brought back here to face a charge of murder.

"When this is over I shall sue for divorce and false arrest. I am entirely innocent."

"Sylpho-Nathol does its work so well"

"I suppose I'm just one of the many happy housekeepers who are praising Sylpho-Nathol.

"It's such a help. It's so dependable. It's such a positive protection against unpleasant odors and germs.

"I used to think that soap and water and plenty of energy were all that any one needed to keep a house healthfully clean. I never stopped to think of disease germs that tuck themselves away in cracks and crannies where ordinary means won't budge them. And as for the unpleasant odors that start so easily in sinks and cellars and garbage cans of the best kept homes—I tried to put up with them as necessary evils.

"How different I feel since I've been using Sylpho-Nathol. Fred says that I use it on every square inch of the house. I know that it goes into every pail of mop-water. Sylpho-Nathol is a real germ-destroyer—4½ times stronger than carbolic acid, though the druggist says it is as safe to have in the house as a cake of scouring soap. I pour it down sink drains, because it keeps away the smells such places develop so quickly. I use it in the mop water. I sprinkle it over the garbage every day, because the flies won't come near it. I use it regularly around the bathroom fixtures and as a flush for the closet bowl. Sylpho-Nathol makes a perfectly wonderful sprinkle for damp, dark cellar corners and attic nooks and other places where there is a chance for odors to start or germs to breed."

It's so easy to prepare. A teaspoonful in a quart of warm water makes a clean-smelling, pearly-gray solution that's ready for immediate use.

Sylpho-Nathol comes in four handy sizes, 15c, 31c, 65c, $1.25. Most good grocers and druggists have it. If yours hasn't, he can get it easily. Just ask for it by the name—"Sylpho-Nathol."

ROMANCE OF PICTURE LEADS TO ALTAR

PAT ROONEY AT KEITH'S

Pat Rooney and Marion Bent, who appeared here last season in "Love Birds," returned to Boston yesterday as vaudevillians and needless to say were as mirthful and catchy as ever. They were roundly applauded for their efforts in "Ring of Smokes," a snappy song and dance revue, in which they were supported by a company of fourteen players.

Included in the cast were Ted and Kathryn Andrews, kings of harmony; Maud Drury, Anita Nieto and Billie Rainsford.

Another feature of the program was "Day Dreams," a new comedy, starring the versatile stage star, Edna Aug. She was supported by Herbert Wilke.

Charlotte Lansing, a really remarkable soprano, made her first appearance in Boston and her efforts were well rewarded.

Jack Joyce, a war veteran, sang well and danced a little, too, despite the fact that he had to use a crutch to assist him.

Other fine specialties on the program were: Johnston and Hayes, as "Terry and Jerry;" the Boston boys, Davis and Pelle, equilibristric marathonians; Pat Barrett and Nora Cunneen, in "Looking for Fun"; and the Jennier Brothers.

The usual Topics and Fable and Pathe News were presented before and after the vaudeville.

SOMERVILLE PLAYERS—"The Mirage," Edgar Selwyn's greatest dramatic triumph in which Florence Reed recently successfully starred, was notably presented by the Somerville Players yesterday afternoon and evening at their popular Davis Square Theatre. Incidentally this vehicle served as an opportunity to introduce Ann Hamilton as new leading lady of this capable company, in the title role. Miss Hamilton's interpretation of Rena Moreland stamped her as a finished dramatic artist.

TREMONT THEATRE—"Little Nellie Kelly" ushered in the twelfth capacity week of the engagement at the Tremont Theatre of this biggest of musical comedy hits.

ONE EXCITING NIGHT—The great Griffith film, "One Exciting Night" began its second week with two enormous houses at Tremont Temple.

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE—Last night at the Hollis Street Theatre Francine Larrimore entered upon the final fortnight of her engagement in "Nice People." This delightful comedy of high society life has proved extremely attractive to Boston theatregoers.

ROXBURY GIRL WEDS FEDERAL INSPECTOR

A romance that began when as a naval officer he saw the picture of a girl on the wall of a home in Newton led Eugene N. Yarrington of Framingham, a Federal Narcotic Inspector, to marry Miss Mildred C. Wilson, twenty-four years old, of No. 63 Highland avenue, Roxbury.

Yarrington, who is stationed in Worcester, left today with his bride for a wedding trip to the West. They will make their home on Walnut street, Worcester.

During the war he was an ensign in the navy, attached to a transport. On a furlough in Boston, he was invited to a party in Newtonville. There he saw the picture of a beautiful girl.

His friend led him into the next room and introduced him to the girl of the picture—Miss Wilson.

The friendship that began that night ripened into love when Yarrington became a civilian again. The two became engaged, and Miss Wilson's mother was informed. It was planned to hold the wedding some time next Spring.

Yesterday, however, Miss Wilson remarked to her mother, "I believe I'll get married this afternoon." Her mother, thinking she was joking, thought little of it. A few minutes later Yarrington arrived at the house and the two went to City Hall.

A waiver of the five-day law had been granted by Probate Judge Forbes of Worcester. Securing their license, the two went to the Newton Congregational Church, where they were married by the Rev. Phipps.

Make Every Page Green, Hub Optometrist Urges

"MY advice is: Make the whole paper green."

Dr. David T. Gordon, successful Boston optometrist, with offices at No. 25 Tremont street, is "for" the Boston American Green Edition every time, because, he says, it's good for the eyes.

DR. DAVID T. GORDON.

"With ninety out of every hundred reading a paper by means of an electric light, the Boston American has done a great thing for the eyes of its readers by adopting a green paper.

"After a day of work, frequently with artificial light, and very often with improper light, no one can do better than to read news printed on a green paper. This will rest the eyes, and moderate the ill effects that naturally follow the use of such intense and concentrated light as is given off by the ordinary electric light in the home.

"I think the Boston American has started something big with the Green Edition. We always knew it was first with the news, and now it is first with the greatest boon to the world's eyes in many years. Make the whole paper green is my advice."

CORSET EFFECT FOR TROUSERS! BON NUIT!

Chicago, Oct. 17.—The correctly attired man of the next few months will wear trousers with a corset effect, delegates to the National Clothers' Convention asserted. A pliable belt permanently attached to each side of the trousers and drawn around and fastened in front gives the corset effect. The back is unsupported by the belt. Norfolk coats with corset effect belts and a topcoat provided with an effective yoke will be popular, the clothiers said.

GRAND TRUNK ENDS LONG SHOP STRIKE

Portland, Me., Oct. 17.—Settlement of the strike of Grand Trunk Railway shopmen was announced today by Joseph F. Paquette, general chairman of the various shop crafts on the line between Portland and Island Pond, Vt. He also announced that the men, numbering 350, who walked out early in July, would return to their work immediately.

TWO WIDOWS FIGHT FOR BIG ESTATE

Chicago, Oct. 17.—Whiskey valued at more than $50,000 and securities worth $69,000, are included in the estate of the late Richard Tracey, former hotel owner, whose property is the stake for which two women, each claiming to be his widow, are fighting in the Probate Court.

Mrs. Margaret Tracey of Cincinnati, O., said Tracey married her in 1895 and deserted her in 1900. She is contesting appointment of Mrs. Anna Tracey, with whom the hotel man lived for many years, as executrix. Tracey bequeathed $1,000 to his daughter, Hazel Tracey of Cincinnati "and the residue" to "my wife," May Tracey."

According to the Cincinnati claimant Tracey had no daughter named Hazel.

WOMAN WALKS 10 MILES IN TRANCE

Springfield, Oct. 17.—Mrs. Marion Gates, twenty-one years of age, of Wilbraham, has recovered from a trance in which she walked ten miles from her home to Somers.

When found unconscious by two young men and carried to the home of Dr. Ralph B. Thayer in Somers, she had been away many hours and the Wilbraham fire and police departments were searching for her.

She had been visiting friends in the afternoon and had decided to walk away into the country to enjoy the Autumn weather when the trance came upon her.

"Kept audience in suspense," Post says of D. W. Griffith's "ONE EXCITING NIGHT." Tremont Temple.—Advt.

Dandruff Soon Ruins The Hair "Use Liquid Arvon"

Girls—If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more appliations will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

Removes "Lump" From Stomach

Distress Relieved by Baalmann's Gas Tablets.

Ever feel as if you had a lump in the pit of your stomach, causing a burning sensation, sour taste, heart palpitation, shortness of breath, bloating or other disagreeable effects? These are some of the most common symptoms of excessive gas resulting from a nervous stomach.

Many people say this "lump" feels like a ball of molten iron, while others claim that it is more like a rock. Of course, it isn't a lump at all, but merely an accumulation of gas in the stomach pressing against the heart or other organs.

By taking Baalmann's Gas Tablets before and after meals, you can prevent distress from gas and aid in correcting the nervous condition responsible for the trouble.

You'll find Baalmann's Gas Tablets on sale at all leading druggists. Price, one dollar. Look for the yellow package. J. Baalmann, Chemist, San Francisco.

SULPHUR CLEARS A BLEMISHED SKIN

Apply Mentho-Sulphur as Told When Your Skin Breaks Out

Any breaking out of the skin on face, neck, arms or body is overcome quickest by applying Mentho-Sulphur. The pimples seem to dry right up and go away, declares a noted skin specialist.

Nothing has ever been found to take the place of sulphur as a pimple remover. It is harmless and inexpensive. Just ask any druggist for a small jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur and use it like cold cream.

'SPICE OF 1922' PACKS OPERA HOUSE

By FRED J. McISAAC.
Dramatic Editor.

The fellow who said "art doesn't pay," should have been taken up to the Boston Opera House last night. Art photographs of ladies wearing as much clothes as Jack Dempsey when he responds to the gong, and looking a lot better, were used to advertise "Spice of 1922," the Winter Garden show. Result the theatre was mobbed, literally mobbed, and it was nearly 9 o'clock that the last of the great audience succeeded in getting into the last vacant seat.

The "Spice of 1922" is a revue written by Jack Lait, a Chicago newspaper man and wit. The cast was headed by Valeska Suratt and Georgie Price and included what the press agent called "Garden of Eden Chorus." There were no less than thirty-one scenes, which meant that the show had to have a lot of speed just to get that much scene shifting done.

PROVIDES OWN CENSORS.

Feeling that the entertainment needed censorship the show provided its own censors in the person of a Jewish policeman, George Bobbe, and a hick selectman, Sam Hearn. The chief resemblance between Hearn and John Casey, the Boston city censor, who sat across from me, is that both are musicians. Hearn can play the violin and Casey the drum. These censors, Hearn and the cop, not Casey, kept intruding all through the show, insisting that the action was naughtier than it was. And to tell the truth it was pretty naughty. Not for some moons has a musical show skimmed so close to the line of demarkation between fun and smut as this one.

There were several very amusing sketches. The funniest and most suggestive was a scene in a business office where a senile old captain of industry was hiring stenographers. But there were a couple of bedroom sketches which made your back hair stand up, and a Paris scene which was pretty rough.

SURATT CLEVER.

Valeska Suratt, whom I hadn't seen for several years, is beginning to grow like May Irwin and talk like Ethel Barrymore. She is going in for character work and gave evidence of cleverness in that line. Georgie Price made a personal hit with part of the audience by his parodies and humor. Eddie Nelson handed me a number of laughs and Arman Kaliz was funny at times.

Midgie Miller, a clever little dancer and singer, scored heavily.

The piece was sumptuously staged. A Javanese temple scene, where the girls were clad mostly in paint, was very effective. I wonder if a union painter applies their garment of color.

On the whole the show will entertain if Censor Casey doesn't get indignant at his counterpart on the stage and cut too much out.

Plays That Remain

WILBUR—The world's famous mystery play, "The Bat," started on its seventh record-breaking week last evening at the Wilbur Theatre, with the usual quota of theatregoers turned away from the box office at performance time because the house was filled both as to its seating and standing capacity.

SHUBERT—Julia Sanderson in "Tangerine" has started on the eighth and last week of the very successful engagement of this unique musical comedy at the Shubert Theatre. Frank Crumit, Frank Lalor, the gorgeous South Sea Island girls, and all the principals will be greatly missed.

PLYMOUTH—"Lawful Larceny," A. H. Woods' production of Samuel Shipman's enthralling melodramatic comedy, started on its second week at the Plymouth Theatre last evening. Lowell Sherman, Belle Bennett and Edna Goodrich in the leading roles are proving as popular as the play.

SHUBERT—Next week's attraction at the Shubert Theatre, opening Monday evening for an engagement of two weeks only, will be Tessa Kosta, James Barton and Marion Green in the resplendent operetta, "The Rose of Stamboul," direct from its notable year at the New York Century Theatre, with the metropolitan cast and production intact.

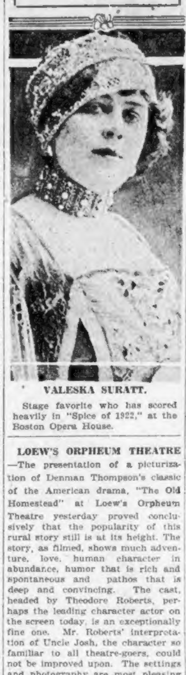
PARK THEATRE—The truth of the old saw that all the world loves a lover has no right to be questioned, and the universality of the fact that the aphorism might be enlarged to include in the subject humor and romance, is made credible by the popularity of "My Wild Irish Rose," which is now in its second and last week at the Park Theatre. Because this photoplay is an adaptation of Boucicault's "The Shaughraun," and is essentially Irish, instead of diminishing the operation of the adage through its being racial, makes it the surer in working.

COLONIAL THEATRE—Irving Berlin's "Music Box Revue" entered into the third week of its brief engagement at the Colonial Theatre last evening to the plaudits of the usual capacity house. Boston has taken kindly to this splendid entertainment.

"SHUFFLE ALONG"—There is little diminuition in the tremendous popularity of "Shuffle Along," which yesterday began the twelfth week of its record-breaking engagement at the Selwyn Theatre.

It's hard to get a thrill, but you will in Griffith's "ONE EXCITING NIGHT." Tremont Temple.—Advt.

Heads Big Cast



VALESKA SURATT.

Stage favorite who has scored heavily in "Spice of 1922," at the Boston Opera House.

LOEW'S ORPHEUM THEATRE—The presentation of a picturization of Denman Thompson's classic of the American drama, "The Old Homestead" at Loew's Orpheum Theatre yesterday proved conclusively that the popularity of this rural story still is at its height. The story, as filmed, shows much adventure, love, human character in abundance, humor that is rich and spontaneous and pathos that is deep and convincing. The cast, headed by Theodore Roberts, perhaps the leading character actor on the screen today, is an exceptionally fine one. Mr. Roberts' interpretation of Uncle Josh, the character so familiar to all theatre-goers, could not be improved upon. The settings and photography are most pleasing and especially true to the New England type. The vaudeville was truly in keeping with the high standard being maintained at this theatre. Patton & Marks Revue presented "Bits and Pieces" with Robert Holden; Velma Hinckle and a bouquet of youthful charmers, which was delightfully entertaining.

MODERN AND BEACON THEATRES—An ideal combination in photoplay fare is revealed in the bill at the Modern and Beacon Theatres this week where Harold Lloyd in his five-part feature, "Grandma's Boy" and a picturing of Kate Douglas Wiggin's popular story, "Timothy's Quest," form the program.

There is unusual treat for patrons of Gordon's Olympia this week. Not only is the sensational new Johnny Hines' feature film, "Sure Fire Flint," being shown, but Johnny Hines himself is there in person at every performance. This combination, in addition to the elaborate program of vaudeville, is making the week a wonderful one at the Olympia.

MYSTERY PLAY DELIGHTS AT ST. JAMES

Mystery plays and mystery "movies" appear to be the vogue these days and so it is in keeping with the style that the Boston stock company presents this week "The Nightcap," a play replete with dramatic thrills, surprises and last, but not least, laughs.

Spooks, murders and robberies play a most prominent part in the play. The audience is kept guessing and wondering as to the outcome and then, after the surprising denouement, it is treated to still another surprise, when the dramatic situations are made fun of.

The peculiarities of the piece offer a wonderful opportunity for the members of the company to show their versatility. On the whole the play is admirably cast and much credit is due every member. Eveta Nudson, in the leading feminine role, is especially deserving of meritorious comment.

THE TREMENDOUS strides achieved by burlesque is proved this week at the Gayety Theatre. Jacobs & Jerome's "Bon Tons," which opened there yesterday afternoon put on one of the snappiest and most melodious, at the same time one of the cleanest entertainments that ever sent patrons of a local burlesque house away delighted with the production from opening curtain to finale. The show is a musical review without a plot. It needs none. It moves from one gorgeous scene to another, with a whirl of fast comedy and wonderful specialties. The principals are all of the best in their particular lines and the chorus reminds one of that line about the Sultan's forty wives—each one more alluring than the one before. Take a company like that costumed up to the minute and equipped with Broadway standard of scenery and it is no wonder that the "Bon Tons" are in for a big week in Boston.

SNAPPY SHOW IS MAJESTIC OFFERING

One of the best variety offerings of the season is "Spice of Life" at the Majestic Theatre. Unusually pretty girls in lots of pretty costumes with plenty of jazzy tunes—that is "Spice of Life." Julia Kelety, with her "Roses of Picardy," was an unexpected treat for those who like a real bit of music tucked away in a vaudeville program. Mlle. Kelety has a splendid voice.

And there was Irene Delory, one of the prettiest girls to hit Boston this season, with her graceful dancing and inimitable smiles. Sylvia Clark does a splendid bit of comedy in her "Artistic Buffoonery," while the little lady on the end in "The Three Misses Wainwright" saves her act.

Jack Boyle, with his versatile voice and the ubiquitous Frank Gaby earned plenty of laughs, and Dave Kramer was funny. Honors also go to Rita Bell.

LOEW'S STATE THEATRE—"Burning Sands," a desert story of tremendous appeal and dramatic power, proved remarkably attractive to the audiences of Loew's State Theatre yesterday. The story deals with the love of a young English woman of the nobility for a hermit of the Sahara Desert. He treats her coldly but she persists in her effort to win him and after a series of highly dramatic incidents in which romance and tragedy are linked, succeeds. The theme is the antithesis of that treated in "The Sheik" and is by the same producer, George Melford. Wanda Hawley plays the headstrong English girl who sets out to win the man she loves and Mr. Sills plays the part of a philosopher who believes that a man's first duty is to conquer himself and who accordingly buries himself with his books in an oasis in the Sahara Desert. A capable supporting cast help to make the picture truly remarkable.

SHOREMEN THREATEN STRIKE

Unable to Agree With Stevedores and Ship Agents at Boston Port

A strike of longshoremen is threatened to add to the port of Boston's difficulties.

Longshoremen, steamship agents and [illegible] stevedores are unable to agree upon a wage scale and working conditions agreement to take the place of one which expired on October 1. Negotiations for the new agreement have been under way for some time, but are not getting anywhere. A strike is regarded as certain.

The longshoremen are asking for an increase of wages. Their wages were cut a year ago from wartime levels.

The agents and stevedores have offered to renew the old agreement subject to certain definite assurances that the agreement will be carried out by the longshoremen. The employers also demand that the initiation fee into the longshoremen's unions be reduced, claiming that the fee is higher than at other ports and that it has resulted in a shortage of labor on Boston wharves.

The unions turned down the employers' demands and then demanded an increase in wages from sixty-five cents an hour to eighty cents and working conditions which the stevedores say are not in force anywhere and are unreasonable.

ELEANOR BARNES FACES CHARGE OF BIGAMY; IS IN HOSPITAL

By ERNEST T. JENKINS

Hartford, Ct., Oct. 17.—Eleanor Barnes, used as a lure by Boston's blackmail ring and stubbornly fighting for her life at the Springfield General Hospital following a self-inflicted wound with a silver lead pencil, was secretly married Friday night to Abraham Levy, and is soon to become a mother.

Levy, also known as George Larue, a former Yale student, was married to her the [illegible] following their arrest in a raid upon a lodging house [illegible] Hopkins street, Hartford.

When Levy, who is twenty-four and a son of Harris Levy, a wealthy Hartford real estate man, and Eleanor Barnes were arrested Eleanor gave her name as Esther Watson. She gave the same name when she was secretly married to him and later arrested [illegible] for [illegible] a $100 bond. She then attempted suicide [illegible]

She married [illegible] husband Clarence Barton in [illegible] N. Y., at the age of thirteen. He was fifteen. Eleanor bore a child [illegible] shortly after birth. The marriage was annulled. Sometime after she married Myron Gr[illegible] of Binghamton, to whom [illegible] legally married.

New details of Eleanor's attempted suicide are presented today by the Boston American. When she [illegible] her $100 bond on the [illegible] charge following her marriage she fled to Springfield, where she was again arrested.

HARVARD SURE OF LICKING CENTRE'S 'PRAYING COLONELS'

CRIMSON IN SERIOUS MOOD THIS WEEK

By CHARLES E. PARKER.

The spanking of Centre College is scheduled for Saturday.

That devout band of "Praying Colonels" will, in turn, be taken over the ample knee of Jack Harvard, who, with unction, will apply the slipper.

Jack intended this spanking for last Fall but he had had so little difficulty in whipping the Colonels two years ago that he neglected to realize they had grown sturdier in the intervening twelve-month and were disposed to resent rather forcibly any such humiliating performance.

Jack became much exercised when his role was changed from licker to lickee (that is not a Volstead joke) and having become exercised he immediately started exercising in anticipation of his self-imposed duty of next Saturday with the result he is now his old robust self, if not a robuster one, and views doing his painful duty to the Colonels with an expression that does not reveal his internal suffering.

Although there is a whole hatful of promising contests on this week's grid bill you can bet your left eye against an onion that the newspapers will carry more columns on the Centre-Harvard game than they carry paragraphs on any other football conflict, and you can count on a crowded Stadium amply provided with Centre rooters who never knew there was such a place three years ago. Such is the power of the press and a place on the Harvard football schedule.

Two years ago when Centre first visited the Cambridge corral and on the New York Exchange ruled a 10 to 6 favorite over the Crimson this column carried the bold assertion that Harvard could score just as many points as it wished to score on the Danville team. Events proved no truer word was ever spoke or writ.

Centre Was Soft In 1920 Game With Harvard

At the start of that game Harvard received the kickoff and in exactly seven plays carried the ball 80 yards to a touchdown. But it seemed that so many of the neighbors had dropped into the Stadium to see 'em play that Harvard thought it best to make a game of it and for the next half hour kept kicking the ball to Centre instead of rushing it. Centre accepted the invitation and by virtue of a long run by "Bo" McMillan and a 45-yard forward pass tallied two touchdowns and gained the lead, whereupon Harvard, having enabled Centre to provide thrills for the onlookers started rushing the ball again and in jig time put over three or four more counters and allowed the second and third string young men to get a little workout against the Kentuckians.

Everyone else writing football that year declared ditto. Again no truer word was ever spoke or writ. This time, however, events did not back up the assertion.

It seemed Centre had provided itself with an enlarged and more able coaching staff and from a team that previously had known nothing but trick play offense, it became a team that had learned a fair brand of defense and a somewhat sounded attack, while the small squad of players, commensurate with the size of the institution they represented assumed numerical proportions common only to the largest universities. Such, again, is the power of the press and a place on the Harvard schedule.

Crimson Started Work Too Late Last Season

Harvard's chief preparation for the game came in its insistence that the Colonels engage no worthy foe before coming to Cambridge—Harvard didn't want 'em licked what with a big crowd promised, and everything.

Centre schedule makers saw to it that nothing tough preceded the hike to Harvard. But Centre knew it knew more football and was a much better team than it had been in 1920, and when it realized Harvard was not up to the improvement, it proceeded to business with gusto.

Harvard finally woke up to the situation confronting it but it was late in the game before the Crimson clattered down the field for a seemingly sure touchdown and when an offside play made negative that touchdown it was too late for the Fishermen to get going again, so Centre took the game.

Now Harvard doesn't like to be licked any more than does any other institution, and that goes for early and mid season opponents as well as for its Big Three rivals.

Consequently Harvard is all set for Saturday's visit of the Colonels. Harvard is taking the game seriously.

It expects to see the team even without the services of "Bo" McMillan, a much stronger and knowing collection of footballers than ever before has represented the Danville school, and it expects last season's Centre victory and the fact the Colonels are now familiar with the Stadium have greatly reduced any tendency to stage fright.

Harvard Plans to "Bear Down" On Colonels Saturday

But Harvard is pretty confident in its own team. You can charge its failure to impress in the Bowdoin game perhaps to a deliberate effort on the part of the coaches.

They brought the team along fast for the Holy Cross game in which game the Crimson showed a more finished brand of play than has any Harvard team so early in the season.

If the men had continued so highly keyed a break would come before the season was much further along. Therefore there was a let down last week and its effects upon the men, combined with the absence from the lineup of Buell, Owen and Clark made Harvard appear less strong.

The Crimson with all its regulars will be very much on the job again by Saturday, and once it gets going against Centre we have a powerful hunch it will 'bear down.'

Except for the absence of "Bo" McMillan the Centre team will be about the same as last year. Covington, who was quite a factor in the Harvard game last year has succeeded "Bo" as quarterback, and Centre rooters claim he is every bit as good as McMillan.

"Red" Roberts, who captains the team has been showing indifferently, according to all accounts thus far this season, but "Red" they say is one of those lazy birds who come to life only when the occasion demands, and there will be one such occasion Saturday.

It was thought for a time the Colonels would be minus the services of Minnis Gordy and Bill Shadoan, who carelessly played on the Pleasureville Ky., semi pro eleven, but the southern I. A. A. conveniently ruled to lift their suspension this week.

Many Star Attractions on Tap This Week

But while the Centre-Harvard game draws the big headlines this week there are other battles scheduled which are likely to prove more important when it comes to the final ranking of the college elevens.

The Boston College-Detroit, Cornell-Colgate, Syracuse-Pittsburgh, Princeton-Maryland, Navy-Georgia Tech and Vanderbilt-Texas games are six contests involving Eastern teams this week which will carry somewhat more than cursory collection of interest, and there are many games in the West and South, involving potential sectional champions.

The East having seen Iowa take Yale for a row of Scandinavian oil cans will follow its course in the Western Conference attentively but inasmuch as Illinois which opposes Iowa, was beaten Saturday some of the edge has been taken from that fray.

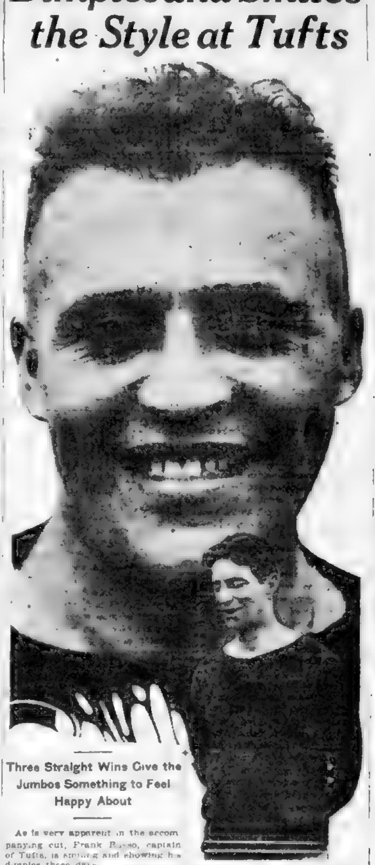
Dimples and Smiles the Style at Tufts



Captain Dimples Frank Russo and Smiling Coach Casey

Three Straight Wins Give the Jumbos Something to Feel Happy About

As is very apparent in the accompanying cut, Frank Russo, captain of Tufts, is smiling and showing his dimples these days.

His team, ably coached by Eddie Casey, the former Harvard and All-American star, is doing a real job this season. Three straight wins, including Saturday's surprising and very satisfying victory over the very strong [illegible] team is its record to date, and the end is not yet.

In fact Tufts looks for a season [illegible] by defeat which would be a somewhat different record than Tufts teams of recent years have [illegible] or suffered.

Hence Captain Russo smiles, and as he smiles dimples so alluring in the faces of the fair, and not half unattractive in a masculine face when that face is strengthened by so forceful a jaw as Russo boasts—as he smiles, we repeat, dimples appear [illegible] and on the left and right flanks of Russo's countenance and nothing [illegible] everybody smiles with him.

[illegible] is a [illegible] and an able football player. Casey, it would seem, is an excellent coach, and the [illegible] has been a happy one for the Jumbos.

SCHOOLBOY GRID STARS IN DOUBLE BILL

By FRED C. LANE

Boston High School football will get down to cases again this afternoon. A double header will be staged at Braves Field. West Roxbury and East Boston High will play the chief part in the double bill while Boston Trade and South Boston will entertain between the halves.

The progress of the West Roxbury team is being watched with interest this year as they appear to be the most serious obstacle in the path of Brighton High for the district high school championship.

East Boston was weakened by graduations but Coach Fred O'Brien is sure to offer plenty of opposition to the West Roxbury team.

The opportunity is ripe for victory by the Trade School eleven. To judge from past performances, Coach [illegible] lads are stronger than Coach Green's South Boston boys and should win by a good margin.

Interest is dull at South Boston. That makes the hope for a winning organization forlorn. This state of affairs grows every year and unless something is done to remedy the [illegible] athletics have [illegible] to live at the Point [illegible] school.

The championship game of Cambridge will be brought forward to Rindge and Cambridge Latin school this week that the boys may take in the Harvard-Centre game. Instead of on Saturday this contest will be wagered at Russell Field on Friday.

Rindge appears the stronger. [illegible] chance to redeem the defeat of [illegible] baseball team is within reach of [illegible] [illegible] filling the places of youngsters who succumbed to injuries.

The season is still young and before many moons Ryan hopes to have his full strength on hand. Lawrence Gaffney, Jimmy Moakley and Denny McNamara are in harness. The work of this trio is [illegible] sterling playing that has kept the "Minute boys" in the running.

MARSHALL W. JONES, WINCHESTER, DIES

Howard [illegible] pastor of the First Congregational Church, officiating. Burial will be in Wildwood Cemetery.

Big Feet Handicap Football Players; Shoes Don't Fit

Crawfordsville, Ind., Oct. 17—Shoes are playing a prominent part in helping slow up football practice of two candidates for the Wabash College football team.

Peare, 210 pound guard prospect, and Chadwick, end, with a size 17½ foot, are awaiting special pairs of shoes. The other day Peare tried out every shoe near his size and finally got a pair which, by slipping the right one on his left foot and the left one on his right, proved somewhere near satisfactory. Chadwick has been unable to get fitted at all.

LATE START FOR SYRACUSE CREW

Syracuse, N. Y., Oct. 17—Syracuse University will launch its 1923 navy campaign on February 1 when candidates for the Orange boats will report for the first time to Coach James A. Ten Eyck, it was announced today. This will give Syracuse a decidedly later start than last season.

J. A. Ten Eyck

[illegible] A. Page, 23, captain of last year's varsity, is optimistic [illegible] next season. He bases his [illegible] not only upon the fact that [illegible] of last year's varsity boats are back in school but upon the

BOSTON COLLEGE MEN ARE IN GOOD TRIM

The Boston College squad spent most of the time in tackling the dummy [illegible] preparation for the big game next Saturday with Detroit University. All the regulars are in fine physical [illegible] and will be [illegible] set to engage in one of the hardest battles of the season when they leave for Detroit.

Jack Heaphy reported for practice yesterday and looks better than for a week. The cut over his eye is rapidly healing and Jack feels that he will be in perfect shape for the game.

It is not likely that "Dyker" Doyle will play at left guard against Detroit. "Cupie" [illegible] is the man who will probably step into Doyle's place, although Jack [illegible], who has been playing tackle, may get the assignment.

Yesterday's [illegible] session was [illegible] with [illegible] of the practice until the team leaves for Detroit.

The chances for Boston College to take revenge for their defeat of last Fall seem much brighter than they did earlier in the season. Patsy McKenna, backbone of the Red and White backfield, will not be in the lineup against the Eagles.

In the game against Duquesne a week ago McKenna injured his knee and is reported out for the season. His leg is now in a plaster cast and it will be impossible for him to get in the game for at least another [illegible].

Detroit suffered a battering in the game against Des Moines College on Saturday, Rottenberg and [illegible], the star [illegible] being injured. These two men will probably be ready to play on Saturday, however.

McKenna's loss is a serious one to Detroit. He was one of the most [illegible] backs and had the Eagle [illegible] guessing in the game last Fall. As a quarterback he knew how to call the proper plays and his kicking and passing were a big factor in Detroit's victory over Boston College.

[illegible] all [illegible] of [illegible] are [illegible]

ROBBED OF BIG SWIM, TOTH NOW CHARGES

Delays and [illegible] a deliberate attempt to foil his effort to swim the English Channel, in the opinion of Charles Toth, expert Boston swimmer, were responsible for his inability to make the French coast after having got within a mile and a half of his destination on September 22.

Charley Toth

Toth, who has just returned to Boston after his trip to England, today told the Boston American the first story of his attempt to swim the English Channel and capture the prize of 1000 pounds offered by a London daily to the swimmer who would again achieve the feat.

"The circumstances surrounding the start from Shakespeare Cliff, Dover, are enough to make me believe that the paper had decided to back out, knowing I was pretty sure to succeed," Toth declared. "The delays forced upon me turned the tides against me and I had to quit after getting within a mile and a half of the French coast."

BYRON GETS SHOT AT N. E. TITLE

Mike Cross has matched Pete "Sailor" Byron to meet Jimmy Fruzetti of Brockton at Worcester next Monday night under the auspices of the Lake A. C. for the New England lightweight championship. Both boys to weigh in at 135 pounds at 3 o'clock.

Jimmy Fruzetti

Byron lost a close decision last Thursday to Johnny Shugrue after ten sensational rounds. Many of the fans thought Byron won.

Byron and Shugrue drew the biggest gate ever in Worcester.

After the Byron-Shugrue battle Byron was offered a return match with Tommy Leahy for the Pioneer A. C., but Cross accepted the Fruzetti match as it is a chance for the New England title.

These boys will draw another record crowd as both are big favorites in Worcester. The weight will [illegible] for both boys as they are [illegible] They have posted $500 for a weight forfeit.

IT was done prettily. The whole girl changed as soon as she found herself in front of him. In place of the [illegible] confidence, struggling with arrogance, she was [illegible] and [illegible] with quick coming [illegible] before her new [illegible]. At once the [illegible] was for her, and out she went, leading Brandon by the hand. Upon her lips and in her eyes was a rare triumphant smile as if to say:

I was surprised and alarmed when Mary chose Brandon, but when I turned to the musicians to direct their playing, imagine, if you can, my surprise when the leader said:

"Masters, we have our orders for the first dance from the princess."

Imagine also, if you can, my double surprise and alarm, nay, almost my terror, when the band struck up Jamie's "Sweet Lass." I saw the look of surprise and inquiry when Brandon gave Mary, standing [illegible] by his side [illegible] heard the [illegible] and I heard her [illegible] nodded her head. Yes [illegible] to him to take [illegible] for the dance. The next [illegible] was in Brandon's arms [illegible] about the room. A [illegible] of astonishment and delight greeted them before they were half way around, and then a great clapping of [illegible] in which the king himself [illegible]. It was a lovely sight, although [illegible] a graceful woman is more beautiful in La Gaillard than any other dance or, in fact, any other situation in which she can place herself.

After a little time the Dowager Duchess of Kent, first lady in waiting to the queen, presented herself at the musicians' gallery and said that her majesty had ordered the music stopped, and the musicians, of course, ceased playing at once. Mary thereupon turned quickly to me:

"Master, are our musicians weary that they stop before we are through?"

The queen answered for me in a high voiced Spanish accent: "I ordered the music stopped. I will not permit such an indecent exhibition to go on longer."

Fire sprang to Mary's eyes and she exclaimed: "If your majesty does not like the way we do and dance at my balls you can retire as soon as you see fit. Your face is a kill-mirth, anyway." It never took long to rouse her ladyship.

The queen turned to Henry, who was laughing, and angrily demanded:

"Will your majesty permit me to be thus insulted in your very presence?"

"You got yourself into it; get out of it as best you can. I have often told you to let her alone; she has sharp claws." The king was really tired of Catherine's sour frown before he married her. It was her dower of Spanish gold that had brought her a second Tudor husband.

"Shall I not have what music and dances I want at my own ball?" asked the princess.

"That you shall, sister mine, [illegible]" answered the king [illegible] master and if [illegible] likes [illegible] that way. It [illegible] name [illegible]. It will [illegible] we will earn it

[illegible] fiddler to my room and [illegible] was also [illegible] I [illegible] from the [illegible] it is his opportunity. [illegible] the new dance [illegible] go to her first, but [illegible] for some reason did [illegible] took several other ladies [illegible]. After I had shown [illegible] I sought out my [illegible] was in a puzzle [illegible] because she was the [illegible] girl [illegible] had succeeded in [illegible] and [illegible] she used [illegible] I might [illegible] and [illegible] always [illegible] something of [illegible] I suppose. When I [illegible] asked her [illegible] the new [illegible] your Edwin [illegible] who are more at home [illegible] and you had bet[illegible]. [illegible] When [illegible] I will go to [illegible] was open and the [illegible] heard [illegible]

[illegible] now [illegible] said I.

[illegible] of her [illegible] what if I did not wish?"

Now this was more than I could endure with patience, so I answered: "My young lady, you [illegible]"

They do add to your Dinner!

The season has started again—the season of teas, and dances, theatres and dinner parties.

What a good start to a dinner—green olives. They make such an attractive picture on the table—crisp, and green, and they make such a mighty appeal to the appetite. In fact, they add to appetite these brisk fall days.

Green olives are so meaty—so plump and firm. There is no finer appetizer. Green olives are healthful, too! The olive oil in them is nourishing to children and grown-ups alike.

At teas—at bridge—at every kind of party, green olives are a delightful treat. Serve them at dinner to-night. Buy a bottle or two to-day.

What Has Gone Before

Sir Nicholas Thormond, a wealthy Englishman, wounded and blinded in one eye in action, starts writing his diary in Paris while the war is still on. He is sick of life. The war has robbed it of all that a young man can find of joy. He tries to amuse himself in the company of several women friends, who, he feels, seek his company for his money and not for true love he craves. He starts to write a book and hires a typist, Miss Sharp. He falls in love with her and wishes none of the [illegible] [illegible]. She refuses to give him [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] her to marry him and she [illegible] [illegible]

"WHAT brought on the [illegible] [illegible]?"

It amused me [illegible] of these [illegible] friends [illegible] the best of them.

Maurice had an air of [illegible] watchful [illegible] to feel at [illegible] or whatever it is that comes from people [illegible] towards [illegible] that some great change had taken place in me and he was not sure what effect it would have in regard to himself. He came back after he had seen Madame [illegible] to her coupe. She has [illegible] now and his rather [illegible] effeminate little dark face was appealing.

[illegible] he said [illegible]

"There is something, Nicholas [illegible]? [illegible] of any use to you?"

"Yes, thank you a thousand times, Maurice. I could trace the whole thing. Miss Sharp comes of a very distinguished family, which I know all about. Her uncle is a [illegible] That is respectable enough, especially a tenth [illegible] And her maternal grandfather was a 'marquess.'"

"[illegible] mon vieux?"

"Quite true."

Maurice was duly interested.

"You were right then about the breeding, it always does show."

I had difficulty in not telling him my news, but I thought it wiser to remain silent until after Friday! Day of days!

Maurice suspected that there was something beyond him all this [illegible] was not sure which course would be best to pursue; one of [illegible] or [illegible]ousness. He [illegible] upon the latter, and presently [illegible]

Then I telephoned to Cartier to [illegible] sent up to look [illegible] I have a feeling that I must be very discreet about giving Alathea [illegible] or she will be resentful and even suspect that my bargain is not entirely a business one. I am afraid I seemed a little too pleased at our interview; I must be indifferently aloof on Friday.

Syrup Pepsin Helps Nature Give Relief

Try it when a Laxative is needed and see the wonderful results

IT is not necessary to take a violent physic for so simple an ailment as constipation. Yet many thoughtless parents give mercury in the form of calomel, and coal tar in the form of phenol when a natural vegetable compound like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will do the work equally well and without danger. People should realize that mercury may salivate and in certain conditions loosen the teeth; that phenolphthalein, by whatever name known and however disguised in candy, may cause dermatitis and other skin eruptions; that salt waters and powders may concentrate the blood, dry up the skin and cause lassitude.

You can take Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin yourself or give it to a babe in arms, as thousands of mothers do every day, with the confidence that it is the safest and best medicine you can use for constipation and such complaints. A teaspoonful will relieve you over night even if the constipation has been chronic for years. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a compound of Egyptian senna and pepsin with pleasant-tasting aromatics, and does not cramp or gripe. Every druggist handles it and bottles are so generous that the cost amounts to only about a cent a dose. You buy it with the understanding that if it does not do as claimed your money will be refunded. The names of all the ingredients are on the package.

Mrs. A. Arceneaux of Orange, Texas, suffered from constipation for six years and found no relief until she took Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin; and Mrs. Gus Anderson of Ball, Kans., corrected her bowel trouble so that she now eats and sleeps normally. Bring a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin into your own home and let the family use it for constipation, biliousness, wind, gas, headaches, flatulency, and to break up fevers and colds.

ANY FAMILY MAY TRY IT FREE

Thousands of parents are asking themselves: "Where can I find a trustworthy laxative that anyone in the family can use when constipated?" I urge you to try Syrup Pepsin. I will gladly provide a liberal free sample bottle sufficient for an average [illegible] Write me where to send it. Address Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 513 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois. Do it now!

"Protect Your Child!"

A few doses of Mentho-Laxene Cough Syrup will stop a bad cough and cold in short order. Every devoted mother will surely be thankful to know that she can make this fine cough syrup at small expense and with five minutes of her time. By doing so, she knows she is protecting her loved ones from the prolonged effects of a bad cold and preventing the likelihood of pneumonia, influenza and tuberculosis. A neglected cold is the beginning of these serious maladies.

Intelligent mothers fear to give cough and cold medicines containing chloroform and narcotics.

Mentho-Laxene is pure and free from chloroform, opiates or narcotics. Such valuable medicines as Menthol, Cascara, Wild Cherry, Tolu, etc., are blended in Essence Mentho-Laxene in such a way as to make a quickly effective treatment for old and young. It is so inexpensive that a full pint can be made at a cost of about 75 cts. or less. Just ask leading druggists for a bottle of Blackburn's Essence Mentho-Laxene. Plain, easy directions to make and the dosage is with each bottle. There is no safer, better protection for the whole family. Hundreds of thousands of bottles have been used in the past 12 years.

Every bottle is guaranteed satisfactory or money refunded. All druggists. "Best ever sold for cough and cold."

Mex Pete Up Over 13 Points on Dividend Rumors in Strong New York Market

FORBES' VIEWS ON FINANCE

By B. C. Forbes

The West is a veritable Pandora's box. You never know what will come out of it.

Here's a new one to me—and it probably was [illegible]

I have just [illegible] from the [illegible] who knows [illegible] better [illegible] man in America [illegible] J. [illegible] First National Bank of Los Angeles, a Texan, who was [illegible] his many years banking experience in [illegible] Henry M. [illegible] head of Los Angeles [illegible] two years ago.

One of the first services rendered by Mr. [illegible] was the [illegible] of $4 [illegible] to Arizona [illegible] growers to extricate them from the [illegible] they were thrown [illegible] war [illegible].

* * *

After the [illegible] of the American Bankers' Association convention I had a long talk with Mr. Day and I know what he says concerning the [illegible] of the cotton [illegible] the [illegible] Southwest [illegible] astonishing [illegible].

"In 1913," said Mr. Day, "California produced [illegible] bales of cotton and Arizona [illegible]. In 192[illegible] Arizona and California, including the [illegible] Valley in Mexico, produced approximately 200,000 bales and the crop production, in spite of the very serious reverses of the recent business depression, will probably exceed 200,000 bales.

"In ten or twelve years Southern California, Arizona, Lower California and the San Joaquin Valley will be producing between $15[illegible] and $[illegible] worth of cotton [illegible]. The value of the present [illegible] is approximately $[illegible] for this year.

* * *

"The marketing centre of this cotton industry is Los Angeles and Los Angeles harbor. Shipments through Los Angeles harbor increased from 14[illegible] bales in 1920 to 104[illegible] in 1921 and the 1922 total will probably exceed [illegible] bales.

"The maximum cotton acreage in this territory [illegible] exceed[illegible]ed 35[illegible] acres, but there are some [illegible] acres well suited to the production of cotton, more than one-third of the total present day cotton acreage in the entire United States.

* * *

"Several Japanese concerns formerly operating in Texas, have moved to Los Angeles because of the ease in supplying Japanese markets from this district.

* * *

"Already serious [illegible] is being given to the [illegible] of cotton mills in the [illegible] area of Los Angeles and [illegible] district doubtless [illegible] rather [illegible] the cotton [illegible]. Certain [illegible] owners [illegible] of the [illegible] States have [illegible] with a view [illegible] the [illegible] Southwest."

$19,000 GIVEN TO CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL

Nearly $19,000 had been contributed late yesterday in the appeal for $100,000 of additional annual subscriptions for the Children's Hospital. The appeal will be continued in Greater Boston for at least the remainder of the week.

For the information of those who are not solicited and who care to help the hospital, checks should be made payable to the treasurer of the Children's Hospital, S. H. Wolcott, or the assistant treasurer, Robert W. Seymour, and sent in care of the State Street Trust Company, Boston.

Subscriptions received yesterday follow:

SIMMONS GIRLS FIND JOY IN FOOD SHOP

Helen Goodell, Simmons '23, has discovered the secret of how to keep girls happy, though far from the maternal pantry shelf. "F-O-O-D" is the answer, and accordingly, she has stocked up her dormitory "Neighborhood Store" with cookies, apples, jam, olives, pickles and all the relations of the canned-goods family. Over in a corner she has an "emergency" counter, too, stocked with needles, thread, hair-nets, soap and all the practical needs of the college girl's existence.

To Betty McCoy '23, as treasurer of the venture, is delegated the task of keeping the credit side of the store's accounts ahead of speaking distance with the debit. And Caroline Daniels '23 is official scout and buyer for this mercantile triumvirate.

REAL ESTATE HAPPENINGS

The necessity for effective organisation for the purpose of protecting owners of real estate and others interested in the real estate business from discrimination of unjust laws and excessive taxation was stressed by the various speakers at the Fall reunion and dinner of the Boston Real Estate Exchange at Hotel Lenox Monday evening.

About 300 members of the Exchange and invited guests were present. President Frank H. Purington opened the after-dinner exercises with a welcome to the guests and introduced the speakers of the evening: Louis F. Eppich of Denver, president-elect of the National Association of Real Estate Boards; Charles G. Edwards, president of the New York Real Estate Board, and N. J. Upham of Duluth, president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

Louis F. Eppich declared the Denver board had raised the standards among real estate operators by disciplining and even expelling offenders against the code of ethics. He described the Mountain Park system, extending some fifty miles from Denver, which, he said, had been adopted as a result of the agitation by the members of the Denver Real Estate Board.

An account of the work which the New York Real Estate Board had accomplished in opposing destructive legislation, featured the talk of Charles G. Edwards, its president. He declared that 80 per cent. of the burden of government is imposed upon real estate.

President N. J. Upham of the National Association described the growth of the association in fourteen years from thirty boards to 474, with a membership of 20,000. He told of the adoption of the word "Realtor" as a professional title for the members and how injunctions had been obtained against those not entitled to use the name.

BUYS FOR INVESTMENT.

The two three-family houses at Nos. 15-17 Rockland street, Roxbury, assessed at $14,600, have been sold by Frank S. Lane to William Maguire, who bought for investment. The property has a land area of 7,200 square feet, assessed at $2,600.

Frank S. Lane also has sold the one-family house at No. 18 Paisley Park, Dorchester, to James McCarthy, who purchased for occupancy. The total assessment is $7,300, of which $1,800 is on the 4,400 square feet of land.

ROXBURY SALES

Through the office of S. W. Keene & Son, final papers have gone to record in the sale of the three-family brick house at No. 34 Randall street, Roxbury. The total valuation is $3,200, of which $300 is on the 1,800 square feet of land. Thomas J. Lane, administrator, was the grantor and Stefano Puleo, the purchaser.

S. W. Keene & Son report the sale of the property at No. 50 Perrin street, Roxbury, consisting of a three-family house and 5,400 square feet of land, to Charles Hilton. The total assessment is $9,400, of which $1,900 is on the land. Alina DeLa Haye was the grantor.

The one-family brick house at No. 12 Rockland street, Roxbury, has been sold by Josephine E. Pierce to Ellen F. Smith, through the office of S. W. Keene & Son. The property has a land area of 3,700 square feet and is assessed for a total of $5,300, of which $1,300 is on the land.

CONVICT SHIP CAPTAIN DARES HARVARD HEAD

Declining to permit any Harvard student to compete against a Tech man for $250 in gold by spending a week in solitary confinement on the convict ship at Warren Bridge, President Lowell of Harvard challenged Captain D. H. Smith, commander of the ship, to spend a week in one of the vessel's cells.

"My offer was a bona fide sporting proposition. Some years ago a similar offer was made to Cambridge and Oxford students while the ship was in England. It was accepted, and carried through. Although the offer I made to Harvard and Tech men is now a thing of the past, it is still open to other local college students.

"If President Lowell will make it a competitive sporting proposition, such as I made it, I will accept his offer. In other words if he himself will occupy another cell, I will willingly accept his challenge.

"The only other stipulation I will make, is that President Lowell personally visit the vessel, and inspect the cells we are to occupy, and learn first hand from an authoritative source of the exact conditions of the test, so that this time he will not have any erroneous idea of the matter, gained second hand."

FORBES' VIEWS ON FINANCE

By B. C. Forbes

The West is a veritable Pandora's box. You never know what will come out of it.

Here's a new one to me—and it probably will astonish you also. I have just gotten the facts from the California banker who knows them and can grasp significance better than any other man in America, namely J. Danney Day, vice-president of the First National Bank of Los Angeles, a Texan, who was born and raised among cotton and handled much cotton business during his many years' banking experience in Dallas before he was lassoed by Henry M. Robinson, head of Los Angeles' largest bank two years ago.

One of the first services rendered by Mr. Day on being transplanted was the furnishing of $4,000,000 to Arizona cotton growers to extricate them from the hole they were thrown into by the explosion of the war boom—a sum since repaid.

* * *

After the activities of the American Bankers' Association convention I had a long talk with Mr. Day and I know what he says concerning the development of the cotton industry in the Pacific Southwest will interest and astonish millions.

"In 1913," said Mr. Day, "California produced only 10,000 bales of cotton and Arizona even less. In 1920, Arizona and California, including the imperial valley in Mexico, produced approximately 250,000 bales, and the 1923 production, in spite of the very serious reverses of the recent business depression, will probably exceed 200,000 bales.

"In ten or twelve years Southern California, Arizona, Lower California and the San Joaquin Valley will be producing between $150,000,000 and $160,000,000 worth of cotton annually. The value of the present production is approximately $35,000,000 for this year.

* * *

"The marketing centre of this cotton industry is Los Angeles and Los Angeles harbor. Shipments through Los Angeles harbor increased from 14,043 bales in 1920 to 104,086 in 1921, and the 1922 total will probably exceed 150,000 bales.

"The maximum cotton acreage in this territory has never exceeded 350,000 acres, but there are some 12,000,000 acres well suited to the production of cotton, more than one-third of the total present day cotton acreage in the entire United States.

* * *

"Several Japanese concerns, formerly operating in Texas, have moved to Los Angeles because of the ease in supplying Japanese markets from this district.

* * *

"Already serious study is being given to the building of cotton mills in the Metropolitan area of Los Angeles, and this district doubtless shortly will develop a rather important industry, fabricating the cotton produced here. Certain important cotton mill owners in this eastern section of the United States have already analysed the situation with a view to establishing mills in the Pacific southwest.

America is a great country isn't it?

Atchison's Loadings

Atchison's loadings last week 39,337 cars, against 38,362 the previous week and 32,023 a year ago.

RED METALS IN RISE; DOHENY OILS AT HIGH

Mexican Petroleum leaped more than 13 points on the New York Stock Exchange on rumors of increase in dividend rate and possibility of stock dividend.

All the Doheny oils set new tops for the year. Fresh 1922 highs were also established by New York Central, Louisville & Nashville, Postum Cereal, Atlas Powder, National Enameling, Manhattan Shirt, National Biscuit and Wells Fargo Express.

General Electric was up 2½ at 185. Anaconda and Utah had 1½ points advances.

Expanding dealings were attended by a considerable higher range of prices in the early afternoon, with many high-priced shares scoring sensational advances.

Atlas Powder was up 9¾, National Biscuit 8, Associated Oil 6½ and Brooklyn Edison 5 points.

Low-priced domestic oils were bought freely, especially Barnsdall A preferred and Producers and Refiners. Pronounced strength was also manifested by the shippings, New York Air Brake, American Metal, U. S. Food Products, Electric Storage Battery, Studebaker and Southern Railway preferred.

Isolated points of weakness were shown, Fisher Body losing 6 points, American Express 4¾, Pierce Oil preferred 3, Corn Products 2, National Lead 3, and Brooklyn Rapid Transit and Pressed Steel Car 1½ each.

Atlantic Refining went back 33 at 1390.

Money renewed at 5, and lifted to 6 per cent.

Selling Old Libertys Depresses U. S. List

Selling of old Liberty bonds to provide funds for purchase of new long term Government securities continued to have a depressing effect on the old issues in New York bond dealings.

Liberty 3½s dropped 24 cents on $100 and losses of 14 to 34 took place in the 4¼ series. Victory bonds also yielded slightly.

The new 4¼ per cent issue, just admitted to trading on the big Exchange, opened at par and later advanced to 100.06.

Foreign loans were more active at rising prices.

STANDARD OILS ON CURB TONED DOWN

There was a distinct narrowing down in volume of business in Standard Oil issues on the New York Curb today, and, although some of these sticks swung over a wide range the most violent fluctuations were again the result of transactions in 10-share lots. Standard Oil of New York swung from 607 to 571. The new stock of Standard Oil of New York started at 52, a gain of 1⅜, and then dropped to 49 on a moderate volume of business.

STOCKS ARE FIRM IN LONDON MARKET

Stocks were firm in London. Consols sold 57⅝, up ⅛; British war loan 3½s, 95½, 5s 101, up ⅛; 4½s 96⅝, off ¼; 4s 100½; funding 4s 86, up ⅝; convertible 74¾; French 5s 35, off 1; Russian 5s 12, up 1; 4½s 8, up ½; 4s 8. Daily Mail debentures opened at a 5-point premium. Market firm. Rio Tinto 28¼, up ¼.

WALL STREET GOSSIP

MEXICAN GULF OIL CO. has completed No. 4 well, Lot 21 Tanchiquen, for 1,500 barrels of oil at 1,750 feet.

CUBAN-AMERICAN Sugar is said to have backing of strong, new pool which is to "punish" the considerable short interest.

RETAIL STORES is favorably regarded by many, who look upon it as a coming leader in the specialties.

CUBA CANE preferred is seen in a large circle as one of the cheapest stocks on the board, bound to rise in view of most excellent earnings.

READING is being bought by those who expect it to be a leader in coming rise of the rails.

FREEPORT TEXAS CO. is reported to have brought in a 6,000-barrel Texas well. Jesse Livermore bought into the stock heavily last week.

ERIE issues have been disappointing to date and talk now is that bull market may end before Erie makes appreciable headway.

NORFOLK & WESTERN is a rail expected to do something for stockholders around October 24.

MEXICAN EAGLE Oil Company's Palma Sola No. 5 well is a dry hole, 2,775 feet deep.

WALL STREET has been buying Steel common on the theory that the report for the third quarter will be more favorable than expected.

STEWART-WARNER Speedometer earnings and present business justify prospective dividend increase to $1 a share at meeting October 20.

LOEW'S, INC., directors meet in special session Wednesday to elect Charles M. Schwab to the board.

MISSOURI, KANSAS & Texas (Katy) sale has been again postponed. New securities may not be issued this year.

ROCK ISLAND is not contemplating authorization for permission to issue 7 per cent. preferred stock, according to a director.

C. P. HOLTZDERBER & CO.—All the earmarks of a permanent upward movement, including a better demand for the standard rails, are now in evidence.

SHONNARD & CO.—Although security markets will probably continue largely a matter of specialties, real trend of stocks still indicates higher levels.

NOYES & JACKSON—We expect to see growing participation in railroad stocks and think this is necessary to keep stock market on an even keel.

MILLER & CO.—Present market opportunities are mostly in quick trading turns. No considerable outside interest can be expected until money conditions improve.

THOMSON & McKINNON—Conditions are growing better in the West, and buying power increases and may become more of a factor as the price of grain advances.

PRINCE & WHITELY — The rails should be more prominent. Buy the good ones and hold them.

E. F. HUTTON & CO.—We see no reason to expect any change in the upward trend of the stock market.

J. S. BACHE CO.—Our guess is that many railroad issues will be from five to ten or more points higher in the next three to six week.

LOOMIS SILENT ON RAISE FOR LEHIGH

President Loomis of Lehigh Valley, relative to report that directors at December meeting would vote $5 dividend rate in place of current $3.50, says: "Everyone seems to know more about it than the management." Opinion in brokerage circles is that buying of Lehigh is based on belief that increase will be voted before end of the year.

BIG CALUMET IS UP 5 POINTS IN BOSTON

Calumet & Hecla lifted 5 points at 285 on the Boston Stock Exchange, its first pronounced upturn from the bottom of the recession from 305, its high for the year made a few weeks ago.

In late trading there were gains of a point to more than 2 points in Connor Stores, Ahmeek, Calumet & Arizona, Boston & Maine B and D, New River preferred, American Woolen and Anaconda.

At the same time point or more losses showed in General Electric, Boston & Albany and Eastern Steamship. General Electric special chipped ½ at 10¾, a new low for this paper.

Waldorf established a new year's high, up ⅞ at 34, and Carson Hill Gold a new year's low, off ¼ at 6½.

There were point gains in Swift & Co. at 109½ and Boston & Maine Class A at 35. Waltham Watch was up ⅜ at 5½, then sold down to 5.

Superior & Boston provided a feature of trading when it lifted ¾ from the previous closing of $1. This was on strength of wire declaring 8.4 per cent. copper has been encountered in its east drift at 265 feet. The drift is all in ore, but the width is not yet determined.

GRAIN MARKET HAS GENERAL FALLING OFF

Lower prices for wheat in Chicago during early dealings resulted from decline in Liverpool quotations. On the turns, however, commission house buying increased. Initial figures, which ranged from 7-8c off to 1-4c advance, with December 1.11½ to 1.12 and May 1.11¾ to 1.11⅞, were followed by slight declines all around. Corn and oats receded with wheat.

DEMAND STERLING QUOTATION FIRM

Demand sterling was firm at $4.43¾. Other demands were: French francs, 750; lire, 422; Belgian francs, 699½; marks, .0003 9-16; drachmas, 248; Swiss francs, 1844; guilders, 3892; pesetas, 1529; Sweden kronen, 2673; Norway, 1841; Denmark, 1944.

COTTON FUTURES ALL SELL HIGHER

Cotton futures in New York were: October sold at 22.22, up 4, December 22.60, up 18; March 22.50, up nine; May 22.43, up 10.

Boston Notes

SAUGUS failed to receive a bid for $50,000 4 per cent. schoolhouse loan bonds offered Monday.

HENDEE'S outlook is said to be encouraging, though fiscal year ended August 31 showed net loss of $1,273,237.

SENECA operations in next few days are expected to reveal ground richer in copper than the lower values lately encountered in drifts on eleventh and thirteenth levels of No. 2, Gratiot.

ARCADIAN CONSOLIDATED has struck fair values in south drift on 1,250-foot level of New Baltic shaft.

COPPER RANGE'S new building at No. 2, Trimountain, is expected to be finished by new year. Production at the three mines is holding uniform.

WOLVERINE'S output is holding up well, from 900 to 1,000 a day being reported.

MOHAWK'S copper output has slumped after making considerable increase.

TENNESSEE COPPER & Chemical Corporation increased output of 60-degree sulphuric acid 25 per cent. last week, and expects demand will force larger output.

ISLAND CREEK has been generous to stockholders so far this year, distributing $15 a share, with another dividend to come in December. Latter is expected to be quarterly payment of $2.

HORNBLOWER & WEEKS—Alternate declines and rallies with market of fairly general strength before Wednesday's close would seem likely.

Steamship Company First Organized Here in Years

First steamship company incorporated in Massachusetts in years, or since the war boom in shipping, has just filed papers at the State House. Record of Bay State shipping concerns since war crash has been largely featured by foundering of weaker companies.

Great Northern Steamship Company has been incorporated under Massachusetts laws for transport of freight and passengers from Atlantic to European ports. Authorized capital stock of $500,000 will be represented by 9,000 shares of 8 per cent. cumulative preferred and 1,000 shares common, all of $50 par.

AM. SMELTING IN GOOD EARNINGS

The semi-annual report of the American Smelting & Refining Company and American Smelters Securities Company is issued today to the stockholders by President Simon Guggenheim. The report shows great improvement in the company's operating income from January 1 to June 30, 1922, compared to income shown by the semi-annual report of the corresponding period of 1921.

The net earnings of operating properties, January to June, 1922, increased by $3,675,766.06 over net earnings in the same period of 1921. Total net income of the company increased by $3,524,918.39 over the amount of income in the first half of 1921 and the income account on June 30, 1922, showed a surplus of $1,825,923.58 compared to a deficit of $1,101,831.49 as of June 30, 1921.

General Cigar Co.

To H. T. O., Huntington Avenue—General Cigar is close to its year's high. Whether or not you should take your profits at this time depends on amount of faith you have in future of the Tobaccos. Statement for first half of year showed net of $1,073,000, equivalent after preferred dividends to $3.83 on 181,040 common shares.

Early in 1922 the cigar industry ran behind last year. May was first month to show an increase; this amounted to 2 per cent. For five months domestic consumption was 5 per cent. below preceding year. Succeeding months witnessed much better business.

American Bosch

To P. R. T., Congress avenue, Chelsea—Value of American Bosch shares depends on demand for electrical apparatus in automotive industries. Late reports indicate an appreciable improvement in this demand. To forecast market action of this stock would merely be guessing. It has been doing fairly well lately. Year's high was made at 49 April 11, and low 31¼ January 31. It closed last week at 41⅝.

Brooklyn Rapid Transit

To D. S. K., School street—As you have been patient for a long time with your Brooklyn Rapid Transit bond, I do not advise a sale now that the company is rapidly regaining its balance. There has been a remarkable improvement in the company's earnings.

OUTLOOK NOW BETTER ON NEW ENGLAND OIL

New England Oil Refining Company earned in the eight months to August 31 $1,432,962 before providing for depreciation. This company owns and operates a refinery at Fall River. Nearly all of its $7,500,000 capital stock is owned by the New England Oil Corporation, which is now in the hands of a receiver.

Of the refining company's earnings to August 31, as already set forth, practically one-half accrued in the final three months of the period. The refining company is running through the stills 20,000 to 25,000 barrels crude a day and is selling all it can produce at profitable prices.

As of August 31, New England Oil Refining Company had $2,764,473 of current assets and $1,635,538 of current liabilities, indicating net working capital of $1,128,935, as compared with $849,665 on May 31, 1922. If the inventory of oil were taken at market prices, the August 31 net quick would have been increased by $131,316.

The corporation now in receivership owes the refining company $4,479,111, representing balance due for Navy "A" fuel oil sold. So far as this account is concerned, of course the refining company is merely a general creditor.

On Dec. 1 next, semi-annual interest falls due on the $5,762,000 outstanding eight per cent convertible gold notes of the holding company.

Whether the receiver will pay the coupons is open to serious doubt. The Aug. 31 balance sheet reveals only $3,134 cash in banks and but $5,022 of other current assets, making total current assets $8,156.

As against this, current liabilities exceeded $78,000, and to pay the Dec. 1 bond interest would take more than $230,000. The eight per cent notes are not specifically secured, so that default of interest would not affect the holding company's ownership of the stock of the New England Oil Refining Co.

SIMMONS GIRLS FIND JOY IN FOOD SHOP

Helen Goodell, Simmons '24, has discovered the secret of how to keep girls happy, though far from the maternal pantry shelf. "F-O-O-D" is the answer, and accordingly, she has stocked up her dormitory "Neighborhood Store" with cookies, apples, jam, olives, pickles and all the relations of the canned-goods family. Over in a corner she has an "emergency" counter, too, stocked with needles, thread, hair-nets, soap and all the practical needs of the college girl's existence.

To Betty McCoy '23, as treasurer of the venture, is delegated the task of keeping the credit side of the store's accounts ahead of speaking distance with the debit. And Caroline Daniels '23 is official scout and buyer for this mercantile triumvirate.

REAL ESTATE HAPPENINGS

The necessity for effective organization for the purpose of protecting owners of real estate and others interested in the real estate business from discrimination of unjust laws and excessive taxation was stressed by the various speakers at the Fall reunion and dinner of the Boston Real Estate Exchange at Hotel Lenox Monday evening.

About 300 members of the Exchange and invited guests were present. President Frank H. Purington opened the after-dinner exercises with a welcome to the guests and introduced the speakers of the evening: Louis F. Eppich of Denver, president-elect of the National Association of Real Estate Boards; Charles G. Edwards, president of the New York Real Estate Board, and N. J. Upham of Duluth, president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

Louis F. Eppich declared the Denver board had raised the standards among real estate operators by disciplining and even expelling offenders against the code of ethics. He described the Mountain Park system, extending some fifty miles from Denver, which, he said, had been adopted as a result of the agitation by the members of the Denver Real Estate Board.

An account of the work which the New York Real Estate Board had accomplished in opposing destructive legislation, featured the talk of Charles G. Edwards, its president. He declared that 80 per cent. of the burden of government is imposed upon real estate.

President N. J. Upham of the National Association described the growth of the association in fourteen years, from thirty boards to 474, with a membership of 20,000. He told of the adoption of the word "Realtor" as a professional title for the members and how injunctions had been obtained against those not entitled to use the name.

BUYS FOR INVESTMENT.

The two three-family houses at Nos. 15-17 Rockland street, Roxbury, assessed at $14,600, have been sold by Frank S. Lane to William Maguire, who bought for investment. The property has a land area of 7,200 square feet, assessed at $2,600.

CONVICT SHIP CAPTAIN DARES HARVARD HEAD

Declining to permit any Harvard student to compete against a Tech man for $250 in gold by spending a week in solitary confinement on the convict ship at Warren Bridge, President Lowell of Harvard challenged Captain D. H. Smith, commander of the ship, to spend a week in one of the vessel's cells.

After due consideration of the challenge, Captain Smith issued the following statement:

"My offer was a bona fide sporting proposition. Some years ago a similar offer was made to Cambridge and Oxford students while the ship was in England. It was accepted, and carried through. Although the offer I made to Harvard and Tech men is now a thing of the past, it is still open to other local college students.

"If President Lowell will make it a competitive sporting proposition, such as I made it, I will accept his offer. In other words if he himself, will occupy another cell, I will willingly accept his challenge.

"The only other stipulation I will make, is that President Lowell personally visit the vessel, and inspect the cells we are to occupy, and learn first hand from an authoritative source of the exact conditions of the test, so that this time he will not have any erroneous idea of the matter, gained second hand."

We Need MORE PEOPLE

Human Beings Are the Real Wealth

Copyright, 1922, Star Co.

Last year for the first time in our history, the exports of wheat and wheat flour exceeded in value the exports of cotton.

The wheat exports amounted to $551,000,000, the cotton to $534,000,000

The products from the gentle pig sold to foreigners amounted to $246,000,000. Tobacco in leaf to $205,000,000, and so on.

Our job is feeding and clothing Europe while it makes treaties and fights. We ought to learn something from Russia, encouraging skilled workers to come in from the outside, in spite of Russia's vast population.

We, on the other hand, are shutting out immigration and prosperity, and forcibly holding down our home markets by keeping out consumers and producers.

Business men only get what the great crowd earns and spends.

All classes are interested in the sound welfare—not the profiteering at the top, or loafing at the bottom—of all other classes. Shutting out good workers from this country is like keeping good horses off a farm—plain insanity.

Too big a population, do you say; too many workers already; too much competition? When the population was under five millions there was only one mechanic in America able to earn as much as a dollar a day all the year round. With one hundred millions here, wages are better. With five hundred millions here, plus good management, wages and ALL living conditions will be better still.

The only real wealth is population.

Special Stock Dividends—

Special Court Decisions—Very Nice Also

Copyright, 1922, Star Co.

One oil company declares a stock dividend of 400 per cent. It hands about five hundred million dollars of new stock to its stock-owners this time.

It can just as easily add five hundred millions more a little later. Issuing stock seems harmless enough, but you ask yourself one question.

Will the Supreme Court, by and by, do for the oil companies what it did recently for the New York Gas Trust? Will it decide that stockholders are entitled to at least 6 per cent. on their money, and that it is reasonable for oil companies having added hundreds of millions to their stock to charge enough for oil and gas to pay dividends on that stock?

Following that Supreme Court gas decision the gas stock jumped up about 50 per cent. It's an easy, pleasant way to "create wealth" by judicial decision.

A little man, struggling to support his family by his own labor or a small business man fighting hard conditions, hasn't got any convenient Supreme Court decision to guarantee "a fair return" at the expense of the public.

Italy's Best, Final War

She's Been at It a Long Time

Copyright, 1922, Star Co.

Italy recently has reclaimed 500,000 acres of swamp land hitherto worthless and breeding disease.

That is the kind of war that ought to interest Europe and the rest of the world, the war against nature—swamps, deserts, mosquitoes, rats, plague and disease generally.

For such war the United States ought to do all possible financing.

The Italians, a great race for thousands of years, have led in magnificent national undertakings. Everybody has read Luigi Cornaro's advice on temperance and moderate eating, advice that he took for himself, living beyond a hundred, although given up to die at forty.

More important than his long life was that Venetian nobleman's suggestion for draining the swamps around his home town. Italy has taught the world, for centuries.

Make a Saint of Louis XVI?

Not First-Class Material

Copyright, 1922, Star Co.

A movement is on foot to canonize Louis XVI., the King who lost his head in the French Revolution, and hadn't much of a head to lose.

The theory would be that he was a martyr to his faith, and it is a weak theory.

The unfortunate gentleman was a martyr to his dullness. He allowed his wife to make a fool of herself while he made curious locks for doors. He wore the tricolor when ordered to do so, was too fat to run away successfully and became the victim of a forward movement.

All you can say for him is that he was one of the least harmful among French Kings, also one of the most stupid. On the day that the Bastille was destroyed he wrote in his diary the one word "rien," meaning "nothing." He thought nothing had happened, but was mistaken.

Ironworkers' Pay

If you question the fact that the ironworkers in this country need protection against European workers write this on your cuff:

No One Wants the Girl

By Dr. Charles Fleischer

WITH all due deference to beneficent institutions, there is something to be said for having the baby born at home. Then there can be but little doubt about its sex or its parentage.

Probably a certain Jersey City couple now ardently wishes that the prospective mother had been able to stay at home instead of going to the Sanitarium to welcome the newcomer.

Duly came the mysterious little stranger. A little later the nurse brought a child to the mother's bedside. The happy parents were surprised; then indignant. They refused to accept the baby as theirs. They claimed that the mother had given birth to a boy. And this child is a girl!

The physician who attended the young mother insists that the infant is hers. The parents are equally insistent that the child is a changeling. The baby itself is non-committal, doesn't give a rap, so long as it is regularly nursed. So there you are! And you can not know the end of this story until the courts, aided by science, shall decide.

But, as we said at the beginning, all this could not have happened had the baby been born at home. As it is, no one claims the little girl. Apparently no one wants her. 'Twas ever thus. These parents admit that they wanted a boy and that they were granted what they wanted. And no substitute will do!

It is not hard to see the reason for that preference for the male child even when organized society legalized the superior status of the male, achieved and maintained by force and custom. But now, in our democratic day, it is time to surrender the outworn superstitions of the natural inferiority of the female.

The position of equality—political, economic, social, which the female of the species is rapidly achieving, is not a victory for women so much as the gradual evolution of humanity. When our human evolution is more nearly complete, the female baby will be as eagerly wanted and welcome as the male.

Meanwhile, please pity this poor girl baby whom nobody seems to want.

Bachelors Tax

Editor Boston American:

Mr. Charles F. Gormely resents the assertion of certain women on Boylston street that old bachelors should be taxed $10 a year. He raises the question that old maids be taxed $20 a year. As irrational as this taxing may appear to Mr. Gormely and many others, we believe the suggestion to be sound, but the amount of said tax should be governed by their income rather than their gender. We believe the responsibility for the great number of unmarried women lies at the "old bachelor's" door. Girls in their teens look forward to marriage and home life. The women are willing to conform to the usage of society. Many bachelors rebel and will not have anything to do with marriage and home-making.

Men with families make a stable country. Unmarried men are a menace to society and as such should be fined in the form of taxation.

Whiskers

Editor Boston American:

Apropos your remarks regarding the wearers of hirsute adornment in your editorial of Oct. 11th, where you pass judgment in so far as the wearer of a beard or mustache is deemed in your opinion to be hiding his real character because the mouth and chin are covered. Also, that they substitute foolish hair for expression. Am I to infer from your article that Abraham Lincoln and Shakespeare come under that category? If a mustache is a microbe nest, and doctors should not have beards also, what about the hair on your head, must we shave that also? As far as men of character and thought are concerned, I imagine that the world's most clever and most gifted men were, and are, men who were more or less unshaven.

Calls for Law and Order

Editor Boston American:

It seems terrible that in this twentieth century of progress, when we are supposed to be at the height of civilization, that there should exist such an organization as the K. K. K. The ritual of this order calls for patriotism, law and order, etc., etc. Why do they persecute Jews, Catholics and Negroes?

It was a Catholic who discovered America. It was Catholic Foch who led the armies of France. The first American to fall in the world war since the entry of the United States was a K. of C., Fitzsimmons of the Kansas City Council, medical corps.

That they have not been sued for libel and slander by the K. K. K. puts Mr. W. R. Hearst and Mr. Pulitzer in a fine light.

U. S. Cooking Is Best

By Winifred Black

GOOD-BYE to the "a las."

Farewell to "filet mignon" and so long to "beef au jus" and a long, long adieu to the "demi tasse."

French menus are out of the fashion.

Hurrah!

Now let's talk plain English and be done with it. Why print the name of a perfectly good American steak in French and think that it will taste better that way?

Why imitate French food, anyway, in American hotels.

French food is excellent — in France.

Nobody can make a salad like a Frenchman, and no regular American cook ever really made a true omelette with fine herbs and had it taste like anything.

But this is America — not France, and American cooking is as good as, if not better than any cooking in the round world.

No, I don't mean fried steak and stewed rhubarb and two or three lonesome little prunes and a dish of canned peas—that dinner is worse than any French dinner or German or Italian dinner that was ever served to a hungry man.

I mean the good old-fashioned broiled steak and baked potato and lettuce and tomato salad with plenty of oil and a generous dash of good vinegar, and hot biscuits and gravy and green peas fresh from the vines and corn on the cob with a regular serving of regular butter and a strawberry shortcake or a fresh cherry pie to top off with—beat that if you can anywhere on earth!

Why doesn't some one open some good, plain old-fashioned American taverns somewhere along the road, with Father at the gate to show you where to turn in and Mother in the kitchen putting the scallops around the edge of the pie with a four-tined fork, and Daughter in the dining-room passing the biscuits and seeing that there are plenty of hot ones?

French food for France. English tea for England, and let the Germans eat cinnamon in their mashed potatoes and enjoy strawberry soup and beer soup if they will—let us go back to Griggsby Station, where we used to be so happy and so poor and have some chicken pot pie and corn bread and greens and call it a day.

SEEN AND HEARD

PRESIDENT of his class for the third consecutive time. This is the distinction accorded to JOHN F. MONAHAN of Roxbury, who has been unanimously elected to lead the Junior class at B. C. this year. Monahan has been President of the Freshman and Sophomore classes since he entered.

"SAM SMITH will referee." This phrase has become a habit with Greater Boston sporting writers. The popular Tyler Street Gym instructor has been chosen by all the Boston wrestling promoters as one of the most capable officials in this city.

When the committees of the various Boston longshoremen's unions got together with the steamship agents the other day to make a new wage agreement for the coming year, who should show up on the Charlestown committee but BIG JOHN O'BRIEN. Big John, who is over eighty years old, used to be a stevedore's boss back in the days when there were still more sailing vessels than steamers.

A device born of the rapidity with which prices of commodities shift these days has appeared in Boston barber shops. It is the usual sort of card advertising a hair tonic, but supplemented by a bit of pasteboard which can be revolved so as to make the price of an application 10, 15, 20 or 25 cents, as the changing price scales may demand.

UNCLE HALE MASON is nominated as the most active octogenarian in Boston. In his eighty-third year, Uncle Hale frequently walks from his home in Dorchester to the Chamber of Commerce building on Milk and India streets, where he hangs out his shingle. His daily average on foot is six miles or more.

Where is the copper-toed boot of yesterday? Perhaps gone with the hoop skirt. The sight of a pair of this type shoe in a High street window brought to the minds of older folks the day when virtually all youngsters wore footwear with metal tipped toes.

GOVERNOR CHANNING H. COX may eventually be called upon to settle this argument, for none but the highest authority is likely to be accepted as final. Police declare it is a daily occurrence for knots of people to be overheard on Tremont street disputing as to whether the Massachusetts State flag at one side of the gilded dome of the State House or the Stars and Stripes are hung highest. It may be an optical delusion, but from some vantage points it looks as if the State flag was above Old Glory.

Five thousand dollars was the expense of sending four clerical and four lay delegates to the Episcopal convention at Portland, Oregon, from this diocese. Church conventions cost something, and it is figured that this convention in round numbers meant an outlay of over half a million of dollars. Fifty years ago if the expense of carrying on this convention amounted to over five thousand dollars the cost was looked upon as exorbitant.

GARRETT P. SERVISS ON SCIENCE PROBLEMS

By Garrett P. Serviss

"Is H. G. Wells right in stating that since the earth became solid the length of the day has greatly changed?—E. F. C., Coldwater, Mich."

THE use of the word "day" in such cases is misleading, because the period indicated by that term is so intimately associated with human affairs and human history. This period is measured by the time taken by the earth to make one rotation on its axis. No known change in that time has occurred since the earliest recorded human history. Theoretically, the rotation period may have been very different before the earth became solid; but then there could have been no life upon the earth. We have no evidence of a "great change" in the length of the rotation period "since the earth became solid." Whatever is affirmed on that subject is of a speculative nature. It may or may not be so.

"If the earth and moon are both drawn toward the sun, why don't they go there?—L. B. M., Superior, Wis."

For the same reason that a rifle bullet fired horizontally, though continually drawn toward the earth, goes a longer or shorter distance (according to its velocity) before striking the ground. If the resistance of the air were removed, as it is with respect to the earth and moon traveling in space, the bullet might go entirely around the earth and become a satellite to it, being all the time drawn toward the earth's centre, yet, in consequence of its forward motion, never getting nearer the surface. A speed of about five miles per second would suffice for that.

"On the explosion of 35 tons of dynamite at a stone quarry approximately two miles from the village where I reside I was standing on a cement sidewalk at home, facing the scene of the explosion. I saw the flash, followed in a few seconds by a terrific detonation. I felt no tremor beneath or concussion in the air. But a large number of people all declared that in their houses they felt a violent shaking, and shared the common impression that it was due to an explosion in their own basements. Can you explain these singular facts?—P. H. B., La Grange, Ill."

No concussion in the air would probably be noticed at a distance of two miles by one standing out of doors. A building, on account of its size, and its hollow construction separating the interior air from that outside, would be much more susceptible to the effects of the passage of concussional waves. The force of the shock communicated through the earth would depend upon the character of the ground and the geological structure of the underlying rocks.

When Hell Gate, near New York city, was blown up with a tremendous charge of dynamite very remarkable differences in the intensity of the shock in different parts of Manhattan and Brooklyn were noticed. These evidently arose from variations in the character and condition of the rocks. In some places people felt as if they were being jerked from their feet, and in other places, not more distant, there was almost no shaking.

—Says Medbury—

At a 5-and-10 Meal You Have to Tip the Waitress Twice the Size of Your Check

While people are still kicking about the high cost of living, they seem to forget that the 5 and 10-cent stores serve meals.

But one bird went into one for lunch and said he'd never eat there again because they didn't have music.

He took a dame in with him and was disappointed because they couldn't dance.

Next thing we know the jitney and two jitney stores will be making a cover charge.

None of the things they serve is over 10 cents. One guy was hunting all over the bill of fare for porterhouse steak.

Another fellow got a dollar changed into dimes and took all of his friends in there for supper.

You'd have thought he was eating at the Ritz the way he told the waitress to put it all on one check.

A very nice class of men patronize them, but you don't dare to smoke.

You're apt to ignite the celluloid collar of the guy sitting next to you.

You can't sit too close, anyway, because the bird on your right is apt to drop his ready-made necktie into your soup.

There is no check room, and the management isn't responsible for lost articles, so the best thing to do in the Winter time is to wear a straw hat. Still, somebody is liable to steal it and save it for next Summer.

How is the waitress going to know when you're through eating?

The average meal costs 10 cents, but the trouble is you've got to tip the waitress twice as much as your check.

They give you a lot of food for a dime. One guy went in with 50 cents and made a glutton out of himself.

He said he was going to a dinner party the following evening and was just rehearsing.

While the food in these places is good, it isn't home cooking.

There are thousands of 5 and 10-cent stores all over the United States, and the cooking would be too much for the wife of the proprietor.
